THE SEE VUE
Experience the unusual

When Beth got some time off from her hectic job it took no time at all for her to convince Charity to cruise down the Oregon coast. It would be a spur of the moment trip, no plans, no reservations. They headed south down Highway 101, passing through Yachats when they noticed a little motel off to the side of the road with magenta doors and blue trim. Beth said, that place looks good, so they stopped. They were pleasantly surprised to be greeted by lesbian hosts who escorted them to the Princess and the Pea room. They spent the next three days lingering by the fire, watching the sun break through the waves, while falling in love with each other—again—and with the magic of the See Vue.
