

OR. COLL.
HQ
75
.J96
v. 16
no. 18
July 16,
1999

Just Out

VOLUME 16 + NUMBER 18 + JULY 16, 1999

Inside
Interview with legendary musician-activist
Joan Baez
Page 37

Portland, Oregon FREE

FEELING VOYEURISTIC?

Our own
Better Homes
and Gardens
JULY 1999

WHO'S THAT GOTH IN THE BASEMENT?

The FINE ART of living on
"OVERKILL HILL"

A LITTLE BIT COUNTRY—A VISIT TO DYKE AGRES

FROM CRACK HOUSE NEXT DOOR TO URBAN SANCTUARY

Join Just Out
on a tour of six queerly fabulous
Portland-area homes

by Oriana Green

So here's my theory of how we queer folk live: As sexual minorities, we often have our otherness reinforced on a daily basis. Many of us do battle with bigots and strive to educate the larger society in which we live. Some of us spend our work lives in closets; others have made an uneasy peace with a "don't ask, don't tell" policy. For these reasons and more, our homes take on an added function—as a place where we can be truly authentic and express our uniqueness without censorship.

University of Oregon Library
Received on: 10-07-99
Just out