Got a sweet tooth? Got a hankering for something unique, original and soooooo good you've got to taste it to believe it? Well, then you need to get in touch with Sidney Thompson, proprietor of My Sweet Tooth and More (and creator of his original recipe sweet potato cheesecake).

Thompson, who volunteers for many local groups, started his home-based business with "the support of friends who provide unconditional love and never ask for anything in return," he says.

Operating out of his fully licensed and inspected Northeast Portland apartment, Thompson turns out such goodies as Black Forest brownie, peach melba cheesecake, lemon twist cheesecake and assorted tortes and muffins by the dozen. Each order is individually prepared with devotion and backed by years of experience.

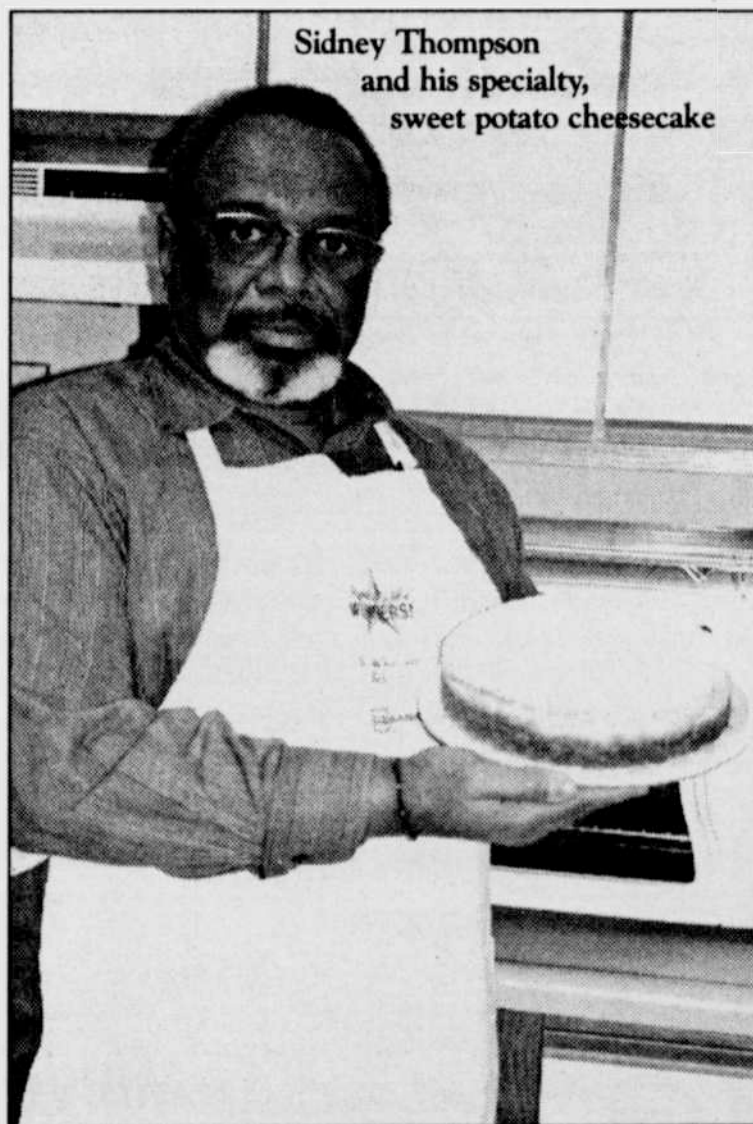

Thompson's passion for cooking hails from family tradition, though his specialty—sweet potato cheesecake—is nontraditional and not a part of his African American heritage. It is, nonetheless, very appealing.

Thompson takes individual and wholesale orders, and ultimately hopes to make enough profits to give some of the proceeds back to the community. For additional information, give Thompson a buzz at (503) 281-0897.

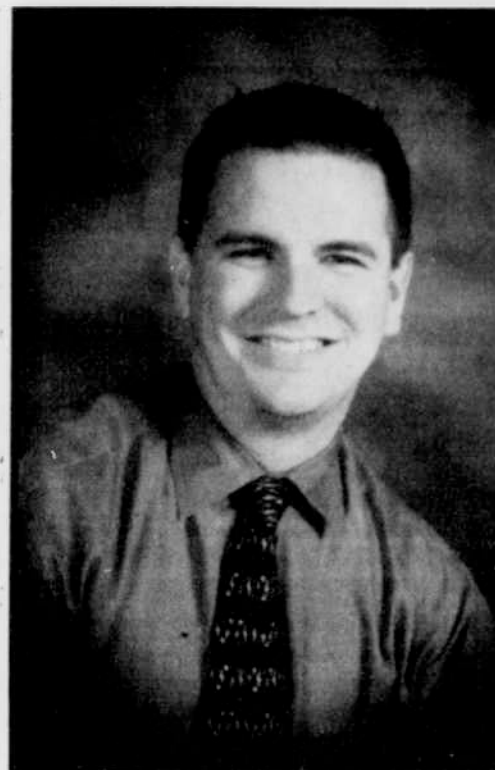

Finally, in the kudos department, a well-deserved thanks goes out to Debbie Drorbaugh at Alameda Tuxedo in Portland.

Debbie's over-and-above service includes those even-later-than-last-minute tuxedo rental services. Excellence in service always warrants acknowledgment.
