located at 7631 N.E. Glisan St. For more information, call (503) 262-7613.

The Lambda Pool League of Portland recently presented a check for $900 to Esther's Pantry. Donations were collected from players' fees throughout the year, with proceeds after costs being awarded to the HIV/AIDS assistance program.

Esther's Pantry recently came into the management fold of the Metropolitan Community Church of Portland. The organization also recently moved from its downtown location and can now be found at 2761 N.E. Halsey St. in Portland. For additional information, call (503) 493-2222.

Three logos by Portland graphic designer Jeff Fisher, of the firm Jeff Fisher LogoMotives, have been honored by the Communicator Awards, a national design competition recognizing creative excellence in the print-media arena of the communications field.

During the past six years, Fisher has received more than 250 regional, national and international graphic design awards for his logo and corporate identity efforts.

Outside In is the recent recipient of $250,000 from the Kresge Foundation. The money will help fund Outside In's new facility, which will provide 20 transitional housing units for homeless youth as well as additional space for clients, volunteers and staff.

"This is a wonderful gift and we are very appreciative of the foundation's generosity," says Kathy J. Oliver, executive director of Outside In.

Oregon HotSpring Spas has been selected as one of the top 100 businesses in the spa and pool industry, according to the AQUA 100 list published in the April issue of AQUA, the business magazine for spa and pool professionals.

Oregon HotSpring Spas has locations in Beaverton, Clackamas, Salem and Bend.
