

AND THEY MARCHED...

photos by Marty Davis

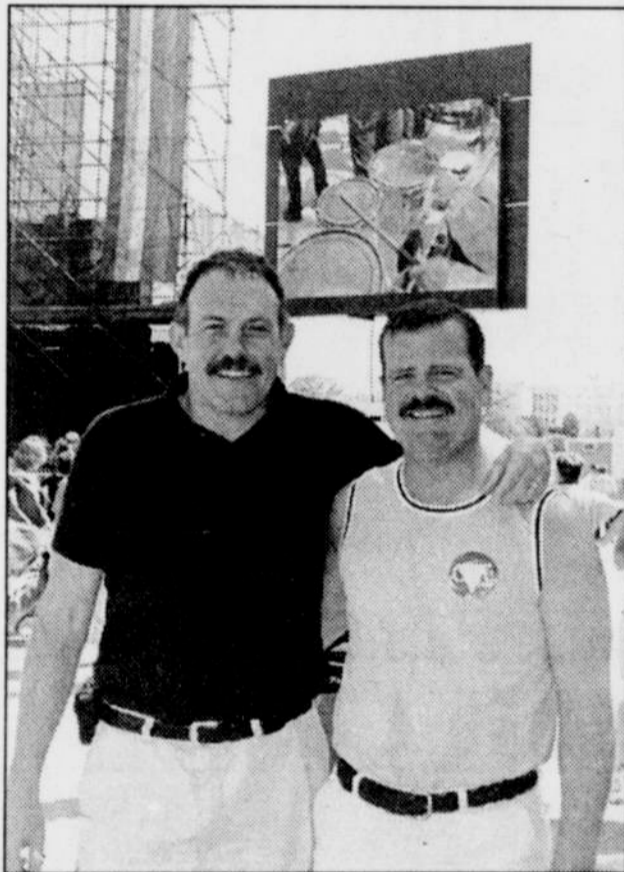

Organizers of the Millennium March on Washington for Equality claim 750,000, some critics claim 125,000—screw the numbers game, at least eight Oregonians were caught on film at the April 30 event in the nation's capital. And they all seemed to be having a great time!

Are these people marching or mingling?

Just Out—it's everywhere you want to be. (Just ask Portlander Margaret Baker.)

Is that the Men with Mustaches faction? No, it's David Colley (left) and Steven Grier of Portland.

Oregonians had a rare opportunity to don their sunglasses: (clockwise from top left) Brad Benton, Bruce Rohr, Jim Radosta and CM Hall

Hey, look! It's Scott Osburne, president of the Portland Gay Men's Chorus.

Brother, can you spare a freedom ring?
