

Kerr Smith swapped spit with another guy on Dawson's Creek ican Way—all of them who have tried to secularize America—I point the finger in their face and say, 'You helped this happen.'"

—Jerry Falwell, laying blame for the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, on the 700 Club, Sept. 13.

"He hasn't exactly moved in. We prefer to call it 'crashing.' He makes his own bed, takes away his dirty laundry and tiptoes in when he comes in late at night. Sometimes I feel like I have two husbands."

—Mark Hsiao on Rudolph Giuliani, who is living with him and his husband, Howard Koepfel, because of the New York City mayor's marital problems at home, to the Los Angeles Times, Sept. 2.

"I had a fantasy world that I escaped to. I called my other personality Celestia. I called the other world that I created for myself the Fourth Dimension. I believed I was from that world. I believed I was from another planet. I think I was insane.... Celestia, I was told, was the reincarnation of God here."

—Anne Heche on 20/20, Sept. 5.

"I really don't want to talk about her, but I will say that nothing surprises me."

—Ellen DeGeneres on Anne Heche's marriage to Coley Laffoon and pregnancy, to The Associated Press, Sept. 13.

"That's none of my business or your business to even ask that question, and I think it's completely out of line.... I'm finished with this conversation. This is ridiculous. You have got to be kidding me, after everything I have given you, you are now asking me about my husband's sexuality? That is flooring to me. I [give you] everything in my honesty, and now you are asking me about my husband's sexuality. Wow. Wow!"

—Anne Heche, when asked whether her husband ever has had gay sex, to the Advocate, Nov. 6.

"What would bug the Taliban more than seeing a gay woman in a suit surrounded by Jews?"

—Ellen DeGeneres at the Emmy Awards, Nov. 4.

"I timed it. It's like a 5 1/2-second mouth-to-mouth kiss. We haven't seen anything like this before on network TV.... This is a huge leap and a huge kiss. We might now start seeing physical affection and romance between other gay characters."

—Scott Seomin of the Gay and Lesbian Alliance

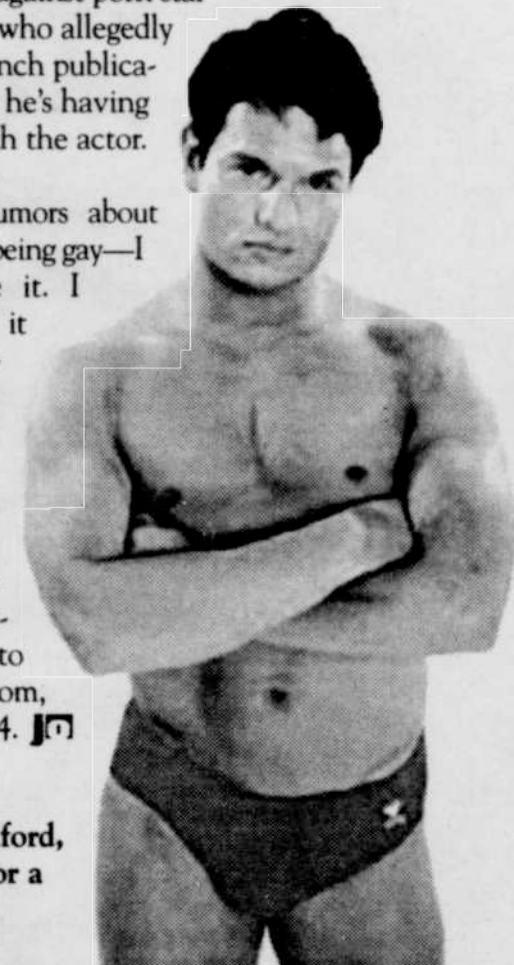

Against Defamation on the May 1 kiss between Dawson's Creek actors Kerr Smith and David Monahan, to USA Today, April 30.

"While plaintiff believes in the right of others to follow their own sexual preference, vast numbers of the public throughout the world do not share that view and, believing that he had a homosexual affair and did so during his marriage, they will be less inclined to patronize Cruise's films, particularly since he tends to play parts calling for heterosexual romance and action adventure."

—From a $100 million lawsuit filed May 2 by Tom Cruise against porn star Chad Slater, who allegedly told the French publication Acustar he's having an affair with the actor.

"All these rumors about [Tom Cruise] being gay—I don't believe it. I don't believe it for one minute. He hasn't been to one of my shows."

—Bette Midler at a New York City appearance, to Salon.com, May 24. JM
