

Holiday Gift Guide

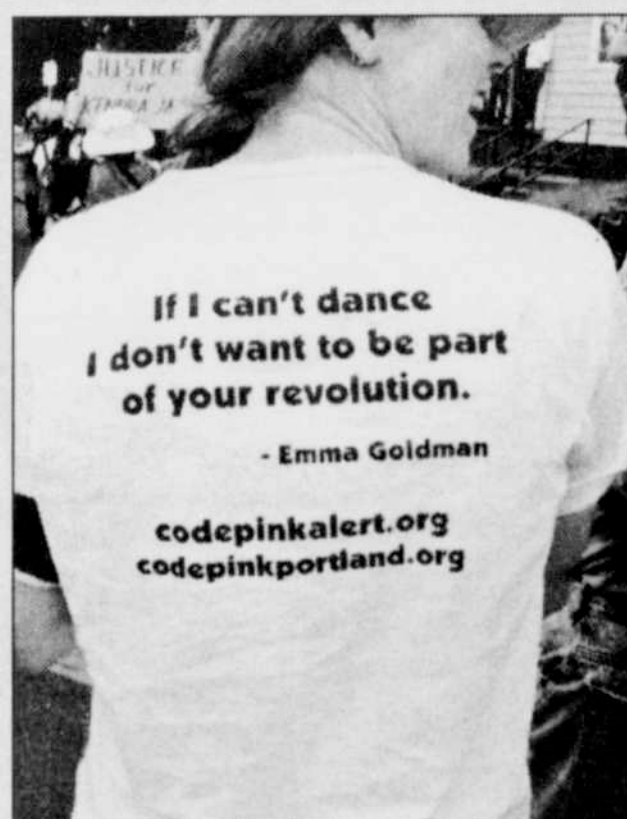

In Other Words Women's Books & Resources

3734 S.E. Hawthorne Blvd.
503-232-6003

When you stop by In Other Words to do your book shopping this holiday season, you'll find myriad ways to support a good cause and find a great gift in one fell swoop. In Other Words is a nonprofit organization that provides a fabulous center for feminist and queer culture—and it sells the wares of other cool nonprofits around town.

A Children's Place

4807 N.E. Fremont St.
503-284-8294

From the $1.50-$35 selection of books, finger puppets, cassettes, CDs and wooden tabletop toys for all ages, A Children's Place should be able to stuff your Northeast Portland stocking with no problem this year. From Leslea Newman's Heather Has Two Mommies to Lambda Literary finalist Alex Sanchez's teen classic Rainbow Boys, this alcove of creative education for your little ones offers special ordering, free gift wrapping and plenty of help in selecting just the perfect things.

Puppet pals and fairy friends $17.95-$27

Personal faves of mine were the glittery green T-Rex and the powder blue three-headed dragon puppets from Folkman's. And for those of you who believe in them, you'll discover a full fairy section complete with the beautifully illustrated Finding Faeries by Michelle Roehm McCann and Maryanne Monson-Burton. Other sections are specifically for geography,

Barbie has nothing on Rosie the Riveter, an icon for the can-do feminist, whatever her age

Pink activist T-shirt with Emma Goldman's famous line, "If I can't dance, I don't want to be part of your revolution."
Puppy pillow $12
Bow-wow! For your pooch, get a "Canine Cuddle" recycled fleece pillow by Trilliam Artisans, a group with a mission to "build community...by working collectively to establish a viable marketing group for small, home-based artisan businesses, particularly women-run businesses."

Stocking stuffers $2-$9

A few fun-for-profit gifts include the Rosie the Riveter action figure, the "Hot-head's Homicidal Lesbian Terrorist Booster Bar" and a wide array of colorful magnets (my favorite: "That's Queen Bitch to You"). In addition to these items, plus the best in books by women, In Other Words has calendars and journals galore, candles, buttons, bumper-stickers, art and T-shirts.

This "Fold-and-Go" barn makes it easy to corral your tot's toys for a day at the grandparents' young adults, pirates and newborns. Stickers, dollhouses, floor puzzles, Dover books, Klutz toys and "Fold-and-Go" barns and workbenches complete this tiny wonderland within two blocks of good independent coffee and a quick bite for lunch.
