Baby, Have You Got the Time?

Haggis McBaggis
6802 S.E. Milwaukie Ave. • 503-234-0849

Haggis McBaggis is your one-stop children's shoe shop—and much more. Gay-friendly owner Josh Pinetich says: "We mainly carry Euro brands.

Extremely well-made, fashion-forward and functional shoes."

The store also carries kids' accessories, clothing, toys and outerwear, as well as women's shoes for shopping moms. The hot item for your favorite little person this season is an educational watch from Babywatch Paris. The tactile and creatively themed watches come with an instructional booklet that teaches kids how to tell time. At $39 a pop, you get a water-resistant and stylish gift that comes with a one-year guarantee. The watch and educational pack are suitable for kids age 4 to 7.

Feel free to bring your kids to the store and shop without distraction. The colorful, hand-painted and handcrafted store features a slide, a fake waterfall with balls and a pillow box to sit and play in. "It's a fantasy garden playground for kids," says Pinetich.

Italian elegance is in the bag available at Portland Luggage Company.

Family-owned Portland Luggage Company is boasting an exclusive line of Mandarina Duck bags with limited U.S. distribution. The Italian line is all the rage in Europe because of its unnaturally lightweight quality and rugged elegance.

The front pocket sling bag is a casual, stylish alternative to a backpack and great for students. The bags come in vibrant green and blue colors plus rust and black.

Portland Luggage Company keeps up with international trends from Europe and Asia, and it imports the highest-quality business and travel gear for a spectrum of price ranges. The gay-owned, 90-year-old store stands behind its products with an ultimate warranty.

Don't hoard the holidays for humans when Fido and Fifi have a neighborhood pet grooming and supply shop full of presents just for them.

Spread the merriment with Antlerz, a chunk of real, naturally shed deer antler, for healthy teeth and gums. The mineral-rich chews clean teeth for $6.50 and $9.50.

If you bring your pooch on every family outing, your car, tent or campsite needs a travel water bowl. The three-quart capacity bowl, which costs $17.49, will not spill a drop of water, even when completely upside down.

For kitty activity hour, break out the Kitty Incredibubbles, a unique gift for cats to chase and their keepers to muse over. The gift of fun is only $3.99.

Making Bath Time So Much Fun

Spartacus Leathers
