• The 11th Annual Portland Diversity Employment Day Career Fair is set for Wednesday, March 30 at the Ambridge Events Center (1333 NE Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd.) from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. More than 20 of Portland's top employers will be present, including Verizon Wireless, Target, Coca-Cola, City of Portland Water Bureau and more.

Participating employers are actively seeking to recruit the best-qualified candidates from multicultural and diverse communities, according to City Career Fair marketing manager Gregg White.

Positions available range from entry to professional level. Candidates should come dressed in business attire and be prepared to give a 30-second presentation about why the selected employer should want to hire them.

For more details, visit citycareerfair.com.

• The dream of the '90s is more alive in Portland than ever. To prove it, Mississippi Pizza (3552 N. Mississippi) is hosting an early- to mid-'90s themed show featuring PDX punk pioneer Kaia Wilson and the Spinanes' Rebecca Gates Friday, April 1 at 9 p.m.

Gates will cover epic '90s tunes, and Wilson will revisit the track list from her 1996 solo debut Kaia. '90s attire is encouraged, and admission to the all-ages show is $5.

• Q Center (6115 N. Mississippi) kicks off an LGBTQ film screening series Friday, April 1 with Katie Turinski's look at one of Portland's most notorious drag-art performance troupes in Sissyboy. The documentary garnered official selection screenings at the 2009 SXSW Film Festival and the 2009 Portland Lesbian and Gay Film Festival.

Turinski will be on hand for a Q and A following the screening—the first installment of a series taking place every Friday at Q Center from 7 to 10 p.m. There will be a $5-$10 suggested donation at the door, but no one will be turned away for lack of funds.

For more information, visit pdxqcenter.org or sissyboydoc.com.

• TransActive Education and Advocacy hosts a new Family Support Group at the OHSU Richmond Clinic (3930 SE Division St.) the first and third Wednesday of every month from 6:30 to 8 p.m. The group is drop-in based and will feature peer interaction for all parents, families and allies of gender non-conforming and transgender children and youth.

For more information about TransActive and the new Family Support Group meetings, visit transactiveonline.org.

• The Sexual and Gender Minority Youth Resource Center (SMYRC, 3024 NE Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd.) seeks art supply donations for an upcoming Youth Art Show at 100th Monkey Studios on Friday, May 6. The show will feature youth art and will include featured artists from SMYRC.

SMYRC is looking for donations of canvas, clay, acrylic paint, watercolors and watercolor paper and anything else folks can spare. Submissions will be assessed by 100th Monkey Studios under the theme of how SMYRC has affected people's lives, though queer youth art on any topic is welcome.

The deadline to submit is Sat., April 9.

For information on how to submit artwork, to donate supplies and more on the Youth Art Show, contact Jess Herbach at jess.herbach@smyrc.org.

• Oregon Bears, Inc. installed a new board of directors for 2011-12 at its monthly board meeting Wednesday, March 2, when Brent Marr was elected the new president. Marr is a well-known local artist and previously held the title of Mr. Oregon Cub in 2007.
