Mock's Crest has been producing light operas, most often Gilbert & Sullivan, since it began in 1990. It operates with the support of University of Portland and the university's Department of Performing and Fine Arts. Over the years the productions have become a local treasure as they import professional talent to create polished productions.

This year's offering, The Gondoliers, runs weekends June 1 through 24. Tickets and more information are available through the box office, 503-943-7287 or email: magohuntboxoffice@up.edu
