

Q+A

JESSE MARTIN

HOW DO YOU IDENTIFY?

Gay male.

WHAT DO YOU DO FOR A LIVING?

I assist, administratively, for an insurance office. Spreadsheets & collating till the cows come home.

HOW LONG HAVE YOU BEEN IN PORTLAND/OREGON?

I've been in Portland for five years, and I really love the theme parties! I didn't get to celebrate Halloween growing up, so it feels like I'm living out a fantasy.

WHAT'S YOUR MOST EMBARRASSING MOMENT OR A PASSION YOU HAVE THAT NO ONE WOULD GUESS?

In middle school I had an embarrassing phase of making clothes for my hamster, Honey. She was always sporting a tunic and a fez, no matter the occasion. I think she hated me.

WHO DO YOU LOOK UP TO OR REVERE IN THE GAY COMMUNITY OR HISTORICALLY?

I really admire people who have the courage to go after what they want, even if it doesn't fit other people's perception of who they should be.

WHAT'S AN IMPORTANT TOPIC THAT THE LGBT COMMUNITY SHOULD BE TALKING ABOUT AND ISN'T?

I know it's being talked about in wellness circles, but I feel the stigma of HIV hinders discussion about prevention and about life after infection. I learned a lot about the disease after I got it. I also learned that most of what I thought I knew (and what a lot of people in the community still think about it) was wrong. If we really want to see this disease stopped in our lifetime, we have to be courageous enough to talk about it openly and honestly. Get tested, know the science behind the facts, and know that life goes on if you let it.
