

Did you know it is against state law to discriminate in selling, renting, or leasing real estate, based on sexual orientation and gender identity? Q Center, Portland's LGBTQ Community Center, and BOLI, the Oregon Bureau of Labor and Industries, have teamed up to inform and educate the greater community about fair housing laws and protections in the state of Oregon. If you feel like you have been discriminated against based on your sexual orientation or gender identity, please visit the website below for more information about the law, your rights, and how to report a violation. Knowledge is power!
