Christian Cup Is Awarded To Smith and G. Coombe

Harry Smith (left) and Grace Coombe (right) have the honor of being the first of their names engraved on the Christian Citizenship Cup. This is the highest award granted in Ashland High School.

In order to become a candidate the boys and girls of the senior class must have met the following qualifications: They must be in good standing as students; they must be interested in athletics, must not cut classes, must not use tobacco in any form or indulge in other harmful practices of this nature. All in all, these students should have all the qualities of a good Christian citizen.

The candidates were nominated by Mr. Walters, Mr. Hal McNair, Mr. Bliss, Mr. Forsythe, Miss Berg, and Miss McCormack. The committee nominated three girls, Grace Coombe, Katsie Hargrave, and Dolly Trask, and two boys, Harry Smith and George Heford. In presenting the cup to the two winners, after election on Monday, May 15, Mr. Walters stated that he wished to have more of the students eligible for nomination next year, and although they did not have the majority of votes, he wished to have all those nominated this year and in years to come feel an honor to have been so close to having their names put on the Christian Citizenship Cup.

JOKES

Mrs. Briscoe was walking down the street with one foot in the gutter and one on the pavement. A friend meeting him said, "Good afternoon, professor, how are you?"

"I was very well thought out for the last ten minutes I have been limping."

Duffy: "There's something wrong with these rabbits you sold me. They have the hiccoughs."

Dave: "But my dear boy, they are Belin' hares."

John: "My clothing store, my clothing store."

Norma Beauchamp: "What happened to your clothing store, did it burn down?"

John: "No, no, I put on a coat and my clothing's here."

Seph: "Did you ever take chloroform?"

Book: "No, who teaches it?"

Autograph books have again made their appearance, a sure sign that spring is here, and that school will soon terminate. That does not necessarily mean that the autograph books cause school to close; it merely means that as the school year nears its close, the autograph book just naturally bursts forth. Actually, they are brought out, reused and recirculated. Most of the names are forced to cancel out gray matter for something clever, yet original—which, by the way, is hard to find.
