THE WAKE OF ARMISTICE

THE WAKE OF ARMISTICE

"Thou too, sail on, O Ship, of State!
Sail on, O Union, strong and great!
Humanity with all its fears,
With all its hopes for future years,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate!
We know what Master laid thy keel,
What Workmen wrought thy ribs of steel,
Who made each mast, and sail, and rope,
What anvils rang, what hammers beat,
In what a forge and what a heat
Were shaped the anchors of thy hope!
Fear not each sudden sound and shock
'Tis of the wave and not the rock,
'Tis but the flapping of the sail,
And not a rent made from the gale!
In spite of rock and tempests roar,
In spite of false lights on the shore,
Sail on, nor fear to breast the sea!
Our hearts, our hopes are all with thee,
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers, our tears,

Our faith triumphant o'er our fears,
Are all with thee—are all with thee."

Thirteen years ago our Ship of States sailed into the calm waters of Peace, from the fury-raged waves of War. Thirteen years ago the Union hoisted the Armistice flag and rebuffed her gunners.

Today the Union bears many modern appliances. The course is modern, the pilot and captain wise men and great leaders.

The old crew is still on deck, working ever gallantly. But apprentices to them, working with eager hands and shining eyes, is the Crew of Tomorrow.

They do not well remember the great battle from which the Union returned with her starry head high in the sky. But they are ever pulling with their great Ship of State, facing the future with the Hope of Youth.

Breaths of meeting, signs of storm, leave the white stars of the flag unblemished. Ahead is a ruffled stream, behind a mighty furrow, but coursing clearly through the waves, the Union leaves a clear, broad path between the furrow edges.

A. H. S. Debaters Getting Organized

Members From Three Classes
Will All Work on Varsity Squad.

Instead of having class debates, as was originally planned, all twelve members taken from the three classes, Miss Tomlinson has announced, will work on the varsity debate squad.

At the tryouts held recently the following students were chosen to represent their respective classes: Seniors, David Johnson, Beth Joy, Preston Becot, and Bernard Applegate; Juniors, George Smith, Rachel Forsythe, Janet Gould, and Elmo Andrews; Sophomores, Margaret Cadzow, Pauline Ward, Wilson Smith, and Harvey Gearhart.

The squad has been divided so that half of the students are working on the affirmative and half on the negative side of the question. "Resolved: that the several states should enact legislatures providing for compulsory unemployment insurance". Miss Tomlinson has announced a schedule of evening meetings at the public library in order that all available material on the

LITHIANS MEET WITH PELICANS AT FINAL TILT

ARMISTICE DAY IS DATE FOR GIGANTIC BATTLE OF OUR SEASON.

ENTHUSIASM AROUSED

Nov. 11 Game Will Be Turning
Point of Football Season
For Ashland High.

All the talk lately among the football fans has been of the coming clash with Klamath which will start at 2:30 o'clock, Armistice Day, October 11, on the Ashland field.

Ashland was defeated earlier in the season by Klamath, but most of the men were green, and now they have had more experience they should put up a stiffer fight which will make the question of supremacy greater than ever.

Klamath Has More Weight

Man for man, the Klamath team outweighs the Grizzlies by about 11 rounds. The only really heavy player on the Grizzlies is Howell, the star end.

It is expected that Gosnell will play a great game, even though he is a light player who should be watched. S. E. D. Dunham, Darling and Sied-off will be in the lineup also.
