LITHIA THEATER AND ROGUE NEWS ANNOUNCE PLAN

NEW ADVERTISING METHOD FOR BEST RESULTS IS ARRANGED

In order to provide a greater circulation of the Rogue News, for better school and merchant advertising, Mr. Leverette who is now operating the former Hurst Theater in Ashland is cooperating with the Rogue News staff in distributing the paper.

Five hundred copies of the Christmas Rogue News—this edition—have been printed; this is more than twice the usual number. Two hundred of these will be sent by the Rogue News staff to subscribers, advertisers and exchanges. The remaining 300 are to be distributed at the Lithia Theater.

The increased circulation will carry the Christmas advertisements of the merchants to over a thousand readers more than a week before Christmas, so that shoppers will have time to take advantage of the advertisements in purchasing gifts.

The plan, tried first for this

Dr. Hall Speaks At Hi-Y Meeting

Harris, Heard, Hardy, Hess Are Formally Initiated Into Group

The Hi-Y club has expressed definite leanings toward aspirants to the organization whose names begin with the letter H. At recent dates, Robert Hardy, Wayne Heard, Parker Hess, and Carl Harris have been taken into the club.

They have brought the total membership to a total of twenty-three, within two of the maximum as listed in the club's constitution. As is customary, the new recruits have been given the hand of fellowship in a vigorous way that has made them feel anxious to stand for the club's ideals.

Dr. Hall of the Methodist church spoke before the meeting last Tuesday evening. Describing vividly some of his experiences and recollections in England, he presented new facts to a large attendance.

Yuletide Affair On December 23

Miss Tjosdal Is In Charge of Program Given By Students

Speaking of the Christmas play Miss Tjosdal said, "Everyone will be amused to see Jimmie Hall and Newell Elliott sitting in the middle of the floor playing with electric trains. They're merely renewing their childhood days."

The play, to be held December 23, is entitled "Tommy's Temper." Paul Icenhower plays the part of the child about whom the story is based. May Belle Jones is the young belle, and Jimmie Hall is the bear brummel. Newell Elliott is a rich uncle, and Donna Mae Maguin is a negro mammy.

The setting of the play is in a society house and the time is Christmas eve.

Miss Tjosdal is starting practice early so that an excellent program can be expected. She has said that the actors are cooperating nicely.

The Girls' Glee Club is going to present a group of numbers appropriate to the season on the program.

DEBATE QUESTION IS DILIGENTLY PURSUED

Working under the direction of Miss Tomlinson practically every night, the debaters are beginning to feel able to discuss the taxation question that is the state debate topic.

The schedule for the debates is not yet made out, but it is thought that the scheme followed will be much the same as that of last year.

Miss Tomlinson refused to say anything about those who would be selected for the varsity teams until the occasion of the final selection of the team.

Visitor Appears Before G. L. Meet

Mrs. Glenn Tells Girls of Her Ten-Year Experience In Alaska

AHS boys were banished from the assembly December 8, during the last part of the afternoon, to make way for the Girls' League program. Mrs. Glenn's description of her life in Alaska was the main event of the program. With her speech she displayed various trophies of her experiences and a number of pictures to vivify her descriptions.

Ten years of living and teaching in Alaska had not diminished Mrs. Glenn's enthusiasm for that country—not even the intense cold.

Rosa Franco played two saxophone solos. She was accompanied by Betty Dean.

SENIOR AND JUNIOR CLASSES TO SELECT

Jimmie Hall, president of the Senior class, said today that one group of Commencement announcements had been received. He also said that he had a letter from another firm from which samples had been chosen saying that he would send the cards when he learned the date at which the class would select the one wanted.

The Junior class has decided on a class ring. It is obtainable in gold, silver, and in a combination of both. The price of the men's ring is $4.25 and the ladies, $4. Pins with the same emblem are also available for $2.75.

The number of Juniors purchasing the rings is not yet known, but estimates place the figures at about one-half of the class.

VACATION LOOMS AS H. S. PRESENT FOR CHRISTMAS

TEACHERS' DESTINATION ON HOLIDAY SEASON ARE SHOWN

The members of the Ashland School Board met together to decide what to give the A. H. S. students for a Christmas present. After finding a decision which was satisfactory to all, they gave it to Mr. Forsythe. He, fearing to lose this precious gift, placed it in a large box, backed saw dust around it, put the lid on, wrapped it in thin, silvery-white tissue paper, and tied it with a wide silver ribbon, not forgetting to tie a large bow on top (Oh, yes, he CAN tie bows!) Then he stuck a few Christmas seals on it. The largest one of these read, "Do not open till December 23."

And so it is all ready for him to give to us. Mr. Forsythe forgot to close the door while he was wrapping this precious package. One of our reporters—they have a way of finding out things—saw what he had put in this box so very carefully. It was merely a slip of paper with "Christmas Vacation—December 24, 1932—January 2, 1933" written on it.

Weather Forces Students Home

Local Freezing Temperatures And Many Absentees Are Noted

Thrills and chills—mostly chills—have accompanied the recent cold snap that has been hovering over us. The chilly breezes and changing temperature has taken a great toll of the Ashland High ranks through sickness, severe colds, and excusives.

"The water pipes were frozen and I had to stay home to help thaw them out." "Dad was sick, so I had to stay at home and chop the wood." "The weather put me down in bed with the flu." Such sad stories as these have drifted into the office all week from returning students.

At the early part of the week, 28 per cent of the students were absent. This means that a total of 74 were out, 33 being boys and 41, girls.
