

Does This Mean You?

Did you ever notice how some people disrespect school property? During the summer months, part of the building and some equipment were repainted, desks were sanded and varnished, windows washed, floors refinished, and numerous other duties performed to brighten up the entire high school building. A lot of work, worry, and expense was put into the building where a great percentage of our time will be spent for the next eight months.

Students should refrain from marking on the throwing paper on the floor and on the campus; and other small but destructive acts. If all will cooperate to keep Ashland High School clean looking and well kept, everyone will be proud to be members of the student body.

It's Up To You

If you were called upon to get up in front of the assembly to lead a yell, how would you do it? Just stop and think about it for a minute. You might say, "Oh, that would be easy," or "Well, the yell leaders have had a lot of practice and I haven't; of course I couldn't do it."

Did you ever stop to think about the work that goes into the learning and leading of a yell? How about all those twists and turns? Do you think you could do them right with the others so that you would have perfect timing?

If you think yell leading is easy, just consider it a bit. Be a little thoughtful of the kids who lead them. A lot of work, practice, and time have been put into every yell. The least we can do is to appreciate it and give our yell leaders our whole hearted support. If that person next to you isn't yelling, prod him a little; he's probably afraid to open his mouth for fear someone will give him a dirty look. Don't you feel more like yelling if the other kids are? Sure you do! It also makes the yell leaders feel a bit silly when nobody yells for them.

Your support at the games is most important. If our boys can hear you yelling, it gives them more incentive to "get in there and fight!" Let's all go to the games and show our best school spirit!

Headquarters Chat

Welcome back to A.H.S. Most of us are glad to see school end in the spring; then along about the middle of August we begin to get the urge to come back to school. There is something about getting back with the gang and away from the hard work of summer that makes school a most welcome place to go.

Most students and teachers like school and are anxious to get the advantages offered by our public schools. We know that the student without a high school education will have to take the crumbs as far as good jobs are concerned. The student without a high school education finds the door to good employment closed in his face in thousands of instances.

It is a natural thing for people to seek learning and personal advancement. When a person turns his back to education he is not doing what a normal individual does. It is natural to wish to succeed and to make a good record that will be worth a great deal to us in the future. It is not natural to be disinterested in success and not to have a desire for a good record.

The principal's office and the faculty have felt that since school started this year we have an excellent and above average student body. We have fewer troublemakers and more good workers than we have had in many years. Everywhere about us we see good work whether it be in athletics, journalism, debate, clubs, cheerleading or school work. The students, who are shining in these activities are to be commended. If you are not in any activity, join up. It is more fun to belong than to stay on the sideline. The opportunity is there; reach out and grasp it.

If you have any problem about your personal life or your school work, the offices of the principal, deans and teachers are always open and marked "Welcome." We wish to help you in your striving for success.

BARBARA RENSFIELD

"People that stare at me," exclaimed Barbara Rensfield when asked what her pet peeve was.

Barbara, who has attended Ashland schools since the fourth grade, was born on August 28, 1935, in Bemidji, Minnesota.

You can always hear Barbara saying "Criminey," which is her favorite expression.

Riding around in the car with Delores Miller is her favorite pastime. She also likes to play the piano.

She likes to watch Gene Kelly and Eleanor Parker in the movies.

Barbara was chosen by the student council to be the student body treasurer for this year.

After graduating she wants to attend college.

HARVEY WOODS

Seventeen years ago on May 12, in the little town of Ashland, Oregon, Harvey Carlton Woods came into the world. The first nine years were spent here, where he attended the first, second and third grades at Washington School. Then, moving to Merced, California, he went to school until the fifth grade. Then he returned to Ashland where he has lived ever since.

Harvey stands about 5' 11", as blue-gray eyes, and reddish-blond hair. His favorite sports are golf and basketball. His musical talent enables him to play his cornet and he is often found in the band room practicing. He played with the city band last summer.

Harvey is a leader in most of his activities. He is vice president of the student body, president of Honor Society, and president of the band.

His favorite saying is but one word, "Ahhhh," and his pet peeve is "girls."

Harvey plans to attend the University of Oregon until he has his career planned—that is, if the draft board doesn't plan it for him.

NORMA STEPHENS

This pretty hazel-eyed senior can usually be seen carrying an annual around and with a photographer taking pictures. She is Norma Stephens and is always running around because she is editor of the annual.

Norma was born in Long Beach, California, July 27, 1935, and lived there until she was eleven. Then she moved to Central Point, coming to Ashland when she was in the seventh grade. She has attended Ashland schools since.

During her sophomore year she was third vice president of the student body and a yell leader in her junior year.

Some of Norma's favorites are steak with mushrooms for food; Ronald Reagan and Jane Powell on the screen.

Her favorite pastimes are dancing and watching football games. Her pet peeve is the photographer's not being on time or not coming at all.

After graduating Norma wants to attend business school.

Juniors Vote Republican

Republican or Democrat? Junior students argued the national problem "who will win the election," with healthy spirit.

The majority of these students say that we need a change in parties at the White House. In most cases it isn't just the influence of their parents. These students have opinions of their own.

U.S. History teacher, Mr. Phil Lindley, stated, "If we could stir everyone up as much as these students we would have everyone wanting to vote."

A panel of six students, three Republicans and three Democrats, was organized in each of the classes by Mr. Lindley. The arguments were good although the students depended mostly on opinion of presidential candidates and their supporters, stating only in part, their personal opinion. As the panel progressed, everyone was heatedly arguing with his neighbor opponents either "for" or "against" the "change in party" slogan.

A vote was taken before and after the panel discussion but all the students were so set in their ideas that it usually remained the same.

GRADUATES ATTEND COLLEGE

Many of last year's senior class are attending colleges throughout Oregon and other states.

Southern Oregon College rated as favorite among the alumni. Attending there are Keith Garrett, Bettie Davis, Loyal Green, Bill Miles, Bill Hollingsworth, Millicent Lower, Beth Power, Leland Silver, Vida Childers, Merle Deets and Jimmie and Johnie Stucky.

Fashion Facts

How many of you fellas have noticed the fashions the girls are wearing this year? Just take a gander about you. Who is wearing black suede shoes? Norma Stephens, Barbara Bugbee and Pat Abbott are just three of the many who have them. Or have you seen Carol Culp's or Shirlene Folk's pleated skirts?

Turtleneck sweaters were started last year but didn't seem to go over as big as they have this year. Dolores Miller has a beautiful grey one with white cuffs and collar. Bat wing sleeves are popular, too. Most of the girls wear pretty medallions on their sweaters.

The "basket bags" with the artificial flowers on them are very practical for school; they really look nice, too.

Most girls seem to be letting their hair grow now. Quite a change from the "poodle cuts" of last spring! I hear they are going out of style, anyway. But just wait till spring comes; the hair styles will be short again.

Dark shades seem to be prevalent over light ones this fall. Black is very good, and a great many girls have black skirts and sweaters.

Slim, slim waists are in style this year and they are accented by wide belts. Just look around—Mary Jo Barrows, Judy Briggs, and Terry Early are a few who have them.

Guess that's about all the facts so far. Oh yes! There is one more—engagement rings!

CAKE SALAD, OR PIE?

Mr. Rossi's wife asked him to copy a radio recipe. He did his best, but with two stations at once this is what he wrote down:

Hands on hips, place one cup of flour on your shoulder, raise knees and depress toes; mix thoroughly in one-half cup of milk, repeat six times. Inhale quickly one-half teaspoon of baking powder, lower the legs and mash six hard-boiled eggs and sift in a bowl. Attention! Exhale, breathe naturally in a sieve. Lie on the floor and roll in the whites of two eggs backward and forward until the mixture comes to a boil. In ten minutes remove from the fire and rub smartly with a rough towel. Breathe naturally, dress in warm flannels and serve with tomato soup.

NEW BOOKS ADDED

According to Mr. Giles Green, our librarian, there are 150 new books in our library this year. These include books of every type such as fiction, science and biography.

There are also 28 old books that have been rebound.
