

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND
HAPPY NEW YEAR

Rogue News

CHRISTMAS VACATION
Dec. 23 to Jan. 2

MON., DEC. 16, 1957

ASHLAND, HIGH SCHOOL, ASHLAND, OREGON

NUMBER 4

Bond Issue To Be Voted Upon Today

A panel discussion was held last week where the plan for $1,263,000 bond issue was discussed in detail by the citizen advisory committee to the school board.

Dr. Christian P. Hald who is the Public Relations Chairman for the Citizens Committee served as moderator. In regard to the high school Dr. Hald stated, "At the present time the high school is over crowded and the Committee believes it is desirable to return to a three year junior high because of the delay caused by the construction of an addition to the present high school.

If the present bond issue is passed it will include the construction of two new junior high schools, and addition to Bellview School, construction of an elementary school for Valley View and the demolition of the old junior-high and the construction of a new elementary school on that site.

Jack Tobiasson had the fol-

Christmas decorations and holiday foods are featured in the home economics department. Pictured are Sally Lane, Priscilla Neilson, Maurice Stewart, Lorna Tobiasson, Ruth Bean, Fay and Kay Babcock, Beryl Bosshard, Judy Mann, and Merina Webster, members of the third period homemaking class. Miss Mary McLarnan is instructor.

lowing comment concerning the situation: "I believe that something must be done soon about the over crowded situation in the high school and moving the 9th grade back to the junior high looks as if it is the best solution."

Tobiasson is president of the A.H.S. student body.

Waldroff Featured Soloist in Concert

Kenneth Waldroff, Ashland High music director, was the featured soloist in the Southern Oregon Little Symphony orchestra concert presented Sunday, Dec. 8, in Churchill

'Around the World' Presented by Sophs

"Around the World," was the theme of the sophomore assembly which was presented to the entire Student Body by the sophomore class, Dec. 12.

The assembly demonstrated both the comical and serious characteristics of many different countries. The hour long event consisted of musical variations with original talent.

Students in charge of the assembly were Steve Peterson, narrator; Denise Dodge, chairman; Paul Alley, lights; and Mike Hall, script. —H.H.

Hall Auditorium on the Southern Oregon College Campus. The orchestra was directed by Dr. Herbert Cecil.

Mozart's "Concerto for Clarinet" was Waldroff's featured number. Other numbers on the program were Sullivan's "Entrance and March of Peers," Bach's "Strong in Thy Faith," "Die Fledermaus Overture" by Strauss, Hydn's "Toy Symphony," "Tocatta" by Frescobaldi, "Czech Rhapsody" by Weinberger, and Grundman's "Three Songs for Christmas."

Waldroff received his B. S. and M. A. degrees from University of Portland. Before coming to Ashland he was director of music in the schools of Sunnyside, Washington. There he played with the Yakima Symphony orchestra.

Ashland High students participating in the concert were Lynn Sohler, sophomore; Carter Mitchell, freshman; Tim McCarty, senior.

Music Groups Present Christmas Program Tomorrow Evening

The annual Christmas program will be presented Tuesday evening, December 17 at 8:00 p.m.

Christmas carols will be played by the band as people enter the gymnasium. The band will also begin the program by playing "Christmas Festival," by Leroy Anderson, which features several Christmas carols.

Girls chorus will sing three Christmas carols: "Lo, How A Rose Eer Blooming," by Praetorius; "Carol of the Shepherds," by Air-Moller-Holst; and "What Child is This," aranged by Scott.

Mixed chorus will sing "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," arranged by Charles Black, with string accompaniment; "Mary, Mary, Where is Your Babe," by Jester Harrison; "Rise Up Shepherds and Follow," arranged by Roy Ringwald; "Praise, My Soul, The King of Heaven," by David H. Williams, with string accompaniment; and "God's Son is Born," by Royal Stanton, with string accompaniment.

The orchestra will play "Iphigenia in Aulis Overture," by Christoph W. Gluck, which was written for a tragedy in three acts; and "La Folia," written by Arcangelo Corelli and arranged by Henry Sopkin. "La Folia" was originally a violin sinata and was recently arranged for full orchestra. "Pastoral Symphony," from the "Messiah," by Handel, will be played by a string choir.

Lecturer on Far East Talks To Students

Dr. No-Yong Park, lecturer on the Far East, was the featured attraction of the Oct. 26 assembly. Dr. Park spoke of the important position the United States holds as a leader of the free world.

"Americans are destined to be leaders. As leaders we must understand everyone," commented Park on America's understanding of the Asian people.

The world is divided into two different camps — the free world led by the United States and the countries behind the Iron Curtain, stated Park. Communists control one-third of the land surface and nearly one-half of the people on the earth. Communism will dominate the free world unless the young people of the United States do better in Far East affairs than their parents have done. The victory or defeat of the U.S. as a leader of

Continued on Page 2

Christmas Observed In Home Ec Classes

Christmas has been observed in the Home Economics Department with appropriate decorations including a decorated tree. The picture window of the sewing room has been painted with a Christmas motif. Menus appropriate for the holiday season are being prepared under the instruction of Miss Mary McLarnan.

The girls in the home ec class observe various holidays with menus of the season. At Thanksgiving the Homemaking III girls entertained at a coffee hour with suitable refreshments and decorations. The Homemaking III class, composed of juniors and seniors, study extensively, the art of cooking. According to Miss McLarnan, the second semester work for this class will include house planning, home furnishings, and clothing construction with emphasis upon tailoring.

Girls in Homemaking II have centered their activities upon food preservation, canning, and meat cookery. "Oven meals" prepared during morning classes have been served at noon. Their second semester work will include child care, clothing construction, and "making a home livable."