THE Inquiring Reporter ON Current News

Do you or do you not favor the sharing of all scientific knowledge among NATO countries? Why or why not? The opinions below were expressed by seniors and faculty.

J. A. — "I favor it because right now we are in a position in which we're going to have to work together. And any information we now have, the Russians already have it, so what's the diff.?"

M. C. — "Yes, because NATO is a group of countries formed to help one another and they should share their knowledge so that all may benefit from it."

L. K. — "Yes I do approve because there is more possibility of development through a

Junior Bowling at Ashland Center

In 1956, the league of the Ashland Bowling Bears was originated. Less than six months later, the league entered the American Junior Bowling Congress and their rules prevailed. The league was and still is divided into four teams. These teams meet every Saturday morning at 10:00 a.m. at the Ashland Recreation Center to compete against each other in match game competitions.

Jack Colley, a member of the Bowling Congress and coach of Ashland's sanction of the American Junior Bowling Congress, entered five of Ashland's top 10-pin artists in a match against Medford and Klamath Falls. Ashland proved outstanding and came home with a record of which to be proud.

The year came to a close and a banquet was given with trophies and certificates issued by president Ron Card.

When this year's president, Terry Campbell, was asked what does the future hold for

CONGRATULATIONS!

Mr. Archie Fries, manager of U. S. National Bank, Ashland Branch, congratulates Tim McCartney for winning $1,000 Scholarship under bank's Work-College program.

Tim McCartney Receives Work-College Scholarship

Tim McCartney, senior, has been awarded a $1,000 scholarship under the Work-College program announced by the United States National Bank. He will begin training in February at the Ashland branch.

Under this program, Tim will work a year before entering college. He will then alternate attending college four terms and working a year until his college graduation. This program normally takes six years to complete, after which he is guaranteed a $4500 annual starting salary.

Tim may enter the Oregon college or university of his choice. Tuition fees and $50 per term book allowance will be paid by the bank.

Selection for the award was based upon teachers' and principals' recommendations, interviews, and tests. One hundred twenty boys from all parts of Oregon were considered for the program. Twenty boys were finally chosen. Tim is one of twelve selected outside the Portland area.

Junior boys interested in applying for next year's program should contact Mr. Jobe or Mr. Smith.

Fitch and Neal Semi-Finalists

Jean Fitch and Larry Neal placed as national semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship tests administered to interested seniors Oct. 22.

Jean and Larry took the three-hour College Entrance Examination Board Aptitude Test January 11, as the second step in qualifying for the 800 scholarships. Announcement of winners will be made May 1.

Merit scholars may attend the college of their choice and choose their field of study. The value of each of the four-year scholarships varies with the financial need of the student, ranging from $100 minimum to $2,000 maximum per year.

Merit scholarships are sponsored by over 60 business and industrial firms, as well as by professional societies, foundations, and individuals. The Sears-Roebuck Foundation is the largest sponsor with 100 awards and $500,000 annually.

The 7,500 semi-finalists represent about one-half of one per cent of the national senior class and each state is represented according to high school population.

Teens Against Polio Campaign Features Miss March of Dimes

Miss March of Dimes will be chosen from the princesses representing each class. The girls are Judy Fader, senior; Pat Roach, junior; Brenda Woods, sophomore; and Gayle Weller, freshman. Basis for selection is the amount of money collected for each candidate. One vote is given for each dime collected.

Judy Fader is often seen around the high school in connection with her work as editor of the annual. She is also an active member of flag girls. Judy's plans after graduation are undecided.

Playing viola in the high school orchestra is one of the activities of Pat Roach. She is a member of the pep club. Future plans for Pat include attending San Jose State college and majoring in teaching.

Brenda Woods is a native of Ashland. Like Pat, Brenda is a member of orchestra. She has chosen teaching as her major at the University of Oregon following her graduation.

Gayle Weller is a native of Ashland's rival, Grants Pass. All her school years, however, have been spent in Ashland. Gayle's future plans include attending Southern Oregon College and a secretarial career.

All class projects are aimed toward the contest for Miss March of Dimes. The proceeds of many activities will go toward Ashland High's goal in the Teens Against Polio campaign. These activities include car washes, food sales, mystery student contests, slogan board at basketball games, and noon dances.

Shirley Jackson Wins Award

Shirley Gale Jackson, senior, is the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow in Ashland High School.

Shirley received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes, administered December 3, to senior girls in the graduating class. Her examination paper will be entered in competition to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runner-up award in the state. For her achievement, she will receive an award pin designed by Trifari of New York.

The national winner in the fourth annual Betty Crocker Search conducted among 327,000 young women in 11,900 of the nation's public, private and parochial high schools will be named April 17 at a banquet in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City.

General Mills is sponsor of the program designed to assist schools in education for home and family living. This year's huge entry brings the four-year participation over the million mark. Over one million girls have enrolled in this national homemaking project since it was launched in 1955. A total of $106,000 in scholarships will be awarded this year.

Each State Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip with her school advisor to Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City. A $500 scholarship will be awarded to the second ranking girl in each state. The school of the state winner will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The scholarship of the young woman named All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000. Girls who rank second, third and fourth in the nation will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

Sue Weller Queen Choice

The Lettermen gave their semi-formal dance Saturday, January 25, in honor of this year's Sports Queen, Susan Weller, who was crowned by Al South. The four princesses in attendance were: Judy Alby, Ruth Bean, Louise Ward, and Carol Lininger.

The general chairman was Kip Lombard; refreshments chairman, Jerry Troxel; Jim Madison was in charge of music; Scott Peterson, decorations; Jerry Stubblefield, signs and clean-up; Bob Rosenbaum was in charge of advance ticket selling, and Jack Tobiasson, the chaperones.

'Highlights of 1958' Pageant Presented by Freshman Class

"Highlights of 1958" was the theme of the freshman assembly presented to the student body January 23 in the AHS gymnasium.

Father Time ushered out the year 1957 and the remains of the Vanguard rocket that failed last year. Jim Lewis, freshman class president and narrator, then introduced the 1958 Baby who entered the gym atop a float depicting the 1958 rocket to the moon. "There she goes!" stated Jim as the float rolled across the gym floor toward the doorway covered by a huge yellow moon. "What will it find on the moon? Why, it's the freshmen girls' ensemble singing 'Blue Moon'."

February was depicted by a valentine float carrying the freshmen Miss March of Dimes princess, Gayle Weller. The float was escorted by 14 girls carrying huge valentines.

St. Patrick's Day was the theme of the March float carrying two girls singing an Irish tune. The float was escorted by several collectors carrying shamrocks.

"In April the people of New York walk down Fifth Avenue in their Easter parade, but the AHS freshmen do the bunny hop," stated Jim as a group of freshmen danced around the gym.

The freshmen depicted May in their version of graduation day. The skit, aimed at the senior class, depicted six graduates, their sad parents, and happy teachers on the solemn day.
