

Rally Squad Receives High Praise for Work

Fight, fight, fight for old Ashland High! These words of encouragement can be heard every Friday from the hoarse throats of our seven yell leaders. Red-faced and out of breath, these peppy bundles of fire instill our team with spirit and courage. This reporter was privileged to interview these beautiful girls.

Delectable five foot, one hundred and three pounds Kay Moore is Yell Queen. Kay is the small girl with the big voice. Her hair is brown and her eyes, hazel. Kay has decided to become a secretary. Perhaps that is why office practice is her favorite course. When our Yell Queen was asked what is the hobby she likes best, Kay smiled, "Yell leading."

The radiant and sparkling girl known as Sharon O'Keefe is a veteran varsity yell leader from last year. Sharon's eyes are a beautiful green and her hair is brown. Her gracefulness is due to her hobby-dancing. Sharon is five feet seven and hundred and twenty pounds. Sharon hopes to be a marine biologist.

Georgous Karen Wood once won a pretty girl contest. Lovely Karen's five feet and seven inches make her one of the tallest girls on this year's yell squad. She likes physiology and loves "to travel."

An aura of gayness surrounds lovely Sandy Hamilton. Sandy haired, green eyed, Sandy is a trim one hundred and twenty pounds, five feet four and one-half inches tall. "I think I like economics best," stated Sandy. "I know," she said, "that I love water skiing." Shapely, sparkling Sandy Hamilton wants to teach in the elementary schools. After graduation, Sandy is going to go to Southern Oregon College.

To Kay Moore's left on Friday is another Kay, Kay Newton. This Kay is five feet two inches and hundred and seven pounds. Popular Kay Newton is a brunette like Kay Moore but her eyes are amber. Kay likes water skiing as a sport and shorthand as a class. "Science," she reported, "is the field I want to enter." Better warm up those slide rules, boys.

Exciting, glamorous Linda Thomas stands five-five. The blond brunette said that to be a secretary is her ambition. Math is the subject she likes best. "My favorite hobby, is Larry Pierce!" Linda make known. (Lucky Larry!)

Last, but definitely not least is blond June Wasner. Jaunty June weighs a hundred and thirty-eight pounds and she is five feet eight. Our June plans to be a junior English teacher. Now there is something for future juniors to look forward to. Besides English, June enjoys a good swim. The University of Nevada can expect June as a student in a few years.

Thanks to our bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked yell leaders, Ashland High School is rated number one in school spirit.

Four New Teachers At Ashland High

New Dean

"We've known for three years that we wanted to move to Oregon, but we weren't sure just what town we wanted to live in," stated Mrs. Margaret Zwick in a recent interview. Mrs. Zwick is the new dean of girls at Ashland High School.

"We are really glad we chose Ashland—we like the town, the people, the school, everything about it," commented Mrs. Zwick, who is a native of Champaign-Urbana, Illinois.

Mrs. Zwick received all of her schooling, including a college education, in her home town where the University of Illinois is located.

Her teaching experience includes teaching high school and college English in Illinois. Prior to coming to Ashland, the new dean was the head of the English department at the high school in Fullerton, California.

Bridge, sports, and reading are her main interests. Mrs. Zwick stated that basketball is her favorite sport, possibly because her son, a junior at Dartmouth

College in New Hampshire, plays basketball.

Football Coach

Who is our new football coach? Mr. Marsh Jones, formerly a professional football player, is now head coach of the Ashland High football team. He is also the assistant coach of wrestling and track, as well as the driver's education instructor.

The coach was raised in Ventura, California, and went to junior college there. While attending the University of Idaho, where he majored in physical education, Mr. Jones became the star tackle of his team and later became the captain of that team.

After graduation, the young tackle joined the professional, Calgary Stampede's football team. Mr. Jones then became a very successful coach. He has coached at Lone, California, and Biddle and Roseburg in Oregon. With an impressive record of twenty wins and three losses in Oregon, he joined the Ashland coaching staff.

Mr. Jones is an all-around athlete. Hunting, fishing, skin diving, and snow skiing are his other athletic pursuits.

English Teacher

Miss Dorothy Rhymes, who teaches Modern Problems, English Two, and English Four is one of the four new teachers on the Ashland High Campus.

Although Miss Rhymes was born in Mississippi, she received all of her schooling in Medford. She also attended the University of Oregon. Before she came to Ashland to teach, Miss Rhymes taught social studies and counseled in Hayward, California.

When she wants to relax, Miss Rhymes turns to water skiing and snow skiing. She also enjoys such spectator sports as football and baseball.

Returning

Mr. Harry Wright is returning to Ashland High School to teach chemistry and biology. In addition, he will be one of the advisors of the student council. Mr. Wright has been on a year's leave of absence to study at Stanford University, and to receive his master's degree.

HELP!

Since the Ashland High newspaper and annual are partly supported by advertising, it is important that the Ashland and Medford merchants realize what a contribution they are making with their advertisements.

This is where you, the students of Ashland High, can help both the newspaper and annual staffs. It is up to you to help the merchants realize that we appreciate their advertising.

The next time you enter a local store, please mention the fact that you read and appreciated their ad in the newspaper or the annual.

Turkish Scholar Joins Student Body

For the second consecutive year, Ashland Senior High School has welcomed a foreign exchange student. This year Ali Sanar, a junior from Istanbul, Turkey, is our honored student.

Ali is one of three children in the Sanar family. At home with his mother, Ali has a younger brother and sister. Ali's mother is a mathematics and French teacher in the Turkish school system.

Ali's hobbies consist of collecting stamps and debating. His favorite sports are soccer, basketball, and wrestling.

In Turkey, Ali attends an all-boys school which has 1500 students. Some of Ali's required subjects were Turkish, Turkish literature, French, French literature, English, algebra, geometry, physics, chemistry, geography, and R.O.T.C.
