Vol. 39, No. 4

ASHLAND, ORE. WED., NOV. 28, 1962

Ashland's Homecoming princesses are Sandy Babcock, Janie Clark, Linda Weber, and Donna Warren.

Assembly, Parade, Bonfire, Game, Headline Homecoming Week Festivities

Ashland High Homecoming was held Friday, November 9. During the Homecoming weekend the school held a pep assembly, a noise parade, a football game with the crowning of the Homecoming Queen during halftime, and a dance.

Laughter and talking filled the air as the Ashland High School students filed into the gymnasium for their Homecoming pep assembly, Friday, November 9, at 3:00. The Ashland High Fight song was played by the band to start off the assembly and Kay Moore, along with the rest of the Cheer Leaders, led yells. Each class was given a certain amount of time to make the most noise they could. A contest was held and points were given to the classes in (1) Participation, seniors B, juniors A, sophomores A; (2) noise: seniors A, juniors A, sophomores A; (3) attitude: seniors A, juniors A, sophomores A; (4) cooperation: seniors A, juniors A, sophomores B. SSS points were given to the winning class, which was the junior class.

Ashland High was honored with the presence of the Crater High Student Body President and the captain of the football squad at the assembly. During the assembly the Student Body President of Crater High read a wager made between the two schools. In this wager, it was agreed that the Student Body President of the winning school would hit the Student Body President of the losing school in the face with a pie. This would take place twice, once at an assembly in the Ashland High School and once at an assembly in the Crater High School.

Immediately after the pep assembly, the kids lined up in front of the high school for the Homecoming noise parade. Leading the parade were the Ashland High Majorities and Band. They were followed by the Flag Girls, the class and club floats, the junior high Varsity Band, and a collection of cars and motor scooters filled with kids. The class floats were judged and the winning class was announced during the football game at halftime. The winning class was the juniors, and the seniors took second place. The parade started at the High School and followed Siskiyou Boulevard to the fire station, down Lithia Way to the Plaza and back to the high school.

The Homecoming bonfire was held in back of the junior high at 6:30 on Thursday. A small pep band played and the Cheer Leaders led a few yells.

At 8:00 on Friday the band marched into the field to present the pre-game show. The band marched down the field and then formed the bear's head and played the Fight Song. They then marched into a flag and played the National Anthem.

The half-time theme was "Salute to the Grads." At the end of the show the five contestants for Homecoming Queen were escorted onto the field. Jody MacCollister was crowned queen by Chuck Calhoun. After the girls left the field, the band made a four count about face and also left the field to complete the half-time show.

To top off a wild and exciting Homecoming weekend, the Ashland High School held its annual Homecoming dance at the junior high after the game. Many students and alumni participated in the dance. The music was furnished by the Ashland High Dance Band, directed by Haasl Middleton, records, and Bill Lively and his band. Jody MacCollister, Homecoming Queen, and her court were presented. The dance ended at 11:30 to end the Ashland High Homecoming.

SEMINAR ON HUMANITIES INSTITUTED AT A.H.S.

"I am very pleased with the response of the students in the seminar thus far," commented Mrs. Peggy Zwick, Ashland High dean of girls. Mrs. Zwick was referring to the discussion group on the humanities which, under her supervision, is being instituted in Ashland High for the first time.

The purpose of the seminar, a pilot project of the Jackson County Able and Gifted Study Committee, is to allow gifted students a chance to read and study the great works of famous men and to expound on questions and ideas which have puzzled men through the ages.

Twenty-six students are in the seminar, including five sophomores, eight juniors, and 13 seniors. The seniors are Lonna Haine, Carol Bjork, Bill Bowman, Mike Cotton, Carolyn Harmon, Jane Hennick, Jim Lamb, Barbara Lawrence, Betty Martin, Jim Lamb, Craig Pennington, Rick Pierce, Bill Tilford, and Doree Woodell. The juniors are Connie Felger, Trudee Lewis, Brian McCormick, Don Scripser, Tim Thompson, Kathy Tilford, Jan Sasse, and Diane Williams. The following sophomores are members of the seminar: John Fowler, Barbara Jones, Nancy Korhase, Dave Lohman, and Dave White.

At the first meeting the students were shown three films concerning the humanities and the play Our Town. This meeting took place at the home of Doree Woodell. The second meeting, at the home of Trudee Lewis, was for the purpose of discussing the play Our Town and discussing the topic "Fate vs. Free Will."

Debaters Travel Tomorrow

After a successful debate tournament in Coos Bay, the Ashland High Debate squad plans to travel to Pacific University, for another match tomorrow.

Early this month four Debate Teams from Ashland High captured four second places in a tournament. The tournament was held at Marshfield High School. After at Marshfield High School on Saturday November 3.

Second place prizes were awarded to the following teams: Kathy Rucker and Carol Ann James; April Lewis and Charles Moore; Trudee Lewis and Scott Roberts; Charles Hillestad and Craig Pennington. Ashland earned second in three of four divisions. The

A.H.S. Band Invited To East-West Game

On December 28 the Ashland High Band plans to make a trip to San Francisco to represent Ashland High School in the Shriners East-West game. To make this trip the band needs approximately $1800. They have put on a car wash, a rummage sale, and sold cupcakes to earn this money. Along with help from the Band Boosters, the band has earned about $1200. They still need about $600. The band reserved 25 tickets to the East-West to sell to the people in Ashland who want to attend the game. The cost of the tickets is $40 each and this includes transportation to San Francisco and back, two nights at a hotel, and the game. Many of the tickets have already been sold but there are still about 11 left. Support your band and help them go to San Francisco to represent the school in the East-West game.

Are you a fashion-conscious boy or girl? If you are, be sure to attend the fashion show at the Elks' Lounge next Wednesday, Dec. 5 at 7:00 p.m.

The fashion show, which is under the direction of Diane Williams, junior class vice-president, is sponsored by the junior class in order to raise money for the Prom.

Several Ashland merchants have supplied fashions which will be modeled at the fashion show by members of the junior class. These merchants are Bobbett's Store For Men, the Bon Bazaar, Fortmiller's, Jean Hart, Inc., Park View Department Store, Perrine's, and the Rogue Shop.

Fashions will be modeled by Nancy Dayton, Connie Felger, Cindy Forga, Cynthia Holtgrave, Evren Kinney, Linda Leigh, Nancy Mott, Linda Thomas, Jan Torrey, Donna Warren, June Warner, Lyle Watson, Wendy Waller, and Cloma Zupat. Five boys will also be modeling men's fashions.

Entertainment, decorations, and refreshments will follow the theme "Christmas Fantasy."

Air Force Test Taken By Seniors

All senior boys at Ashland High School were given a test put out by the United States Air Force. The test was not only for those interested in joining the Air Force but for all boys. The boys found that the Air Force is no pushover and that previous studying in High School could make quite a difference in the results of the test.

divisions were junior men's, junior women's, and two senior men's.

Tomorrow the eight team members will travel to Forest Grove for a contest at Pacific University. The tournament will last for two days. In addition to debate itself, students will be judged in individual speeches such as orations and humorous readings.
