November 25 the chorus and orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Bernard Windt, will present a concert at 11 a.m. in the Ashland High auditorium.

It is hoped that the assembly will help to acquaint the student body with the activities of Ashland High's music department. The program will begin with the chorus singing the Alma Mater. Other numbers to be sung by the chorus will be Tumble Weeds, Calypso, Certainly Hard, Bless This House, Rock of My Soul, and Now Let Every Tongue.

VFW To Sponsor Local Contest

Would you like to win a $5,000 scholarship plus an all-expense-paid trip to the nation's capital? The money and the trip will be awarded the first place winner of the Voice of Democracy Contest sponsored by the VFW.

The topic for the contest this year is the "Challenge of Citizenship." Any sophomore, junior, or senior can participate in the competition by writing a three-to-five-minute script to be given orally. This is competition in writing and voicing the personal opinions of students, not an oratorical contest.

Participants will compete with students from Ashland first, and a school winner will be picked. Prizes will be awarded to the winners and are donated by the Ashland merchants. The scripts are judged on content, originality, and delivery.

The school winner then competes with other school winners in Jackson County, and a winner is chosen to compete in the state. Certificates of Merit are given to the winner of each school and community in the United States participating in the contest.

Each state winner receives a 5-day trip to Washington, D. C. in March, where the four national finalists and the top national winner will be announced at the annual VFW Congressional banquet.

Ashland Students Apply For Americans Abroad

Four Ashland High students have been selected as finalists in the Americans Abroad Program. They are Bob Kaegi, Carol Pennington, Amy Helm, and Ellen Craft.

By Kim Nguyen

Ellen Craft, Amy Helm, Carol Pennington, and Robert Kaegi have been chosen as candidates for the Americans Abroad program next year. All are attending Ashland High School as juniors.

Applications of the four students will be sent to the AFS in New York, and a committee will select students to go abroad. The selection is based on the ability to adapt, scholarship, personality and creativity. Each candidate must be 16 years old and must have had two years of a foreign language. The grants, under the AFS Americans Abroad program, give a student the opportunity to study for one school year in a foreign country.

"It's been a wonderful experience, and I think it would be wonderful to go. I hope one of the four of us gets a chance to go," said Ellen.

Amy thinks that "it is a very fine program. Right now the possibility of going seems very remote. I think it would be a fabulous experience to live for a while in a foreign country. I just hope one of the candidates in Ashland will be given this opportunity."

Carol said, "I'd love to go. It would be the chance of a lifetime if any of the four of us could. I imagine I would be a
