ASHLAND HIGH SCHOOL, ASHLAND, ORE.

THURS., APR. 27, 1967

Juniors Name Prom Court

Date Set For May

Eight senior girls were recently selected as prom princesses by the junior class. One of them will reign as queen of the junior-senior prom on Saturday evening, May 13, in the Ashland High gym. Those selected include Danis Conklin, Carolyn Hassell, Kathy O'Harra, Stevie Rice, Lillette Tumbagahan, Pam Tucker, Sandy Westgaard, and Chris Wiley.

Cheerleader

As a cheerleader, Danis has been a supporter of athletic activities since junior high school. Danis was also a member of last year's ski club and is presently an art service corps member.

Carolyn is also a member of the varsity rally squad. During her junior year, Carolyn was a member of Grizzettes and choir. This year she is choir secretary.

Student Government

The duties of class president occupied much of Kathy's sophomore year. Besides student government activities, Kathy's schedule also has included membership in Ski club, AFS, and FBLA. Outside of school, Kathy participates in Juvenile Jury and Canyonskiing.

Stevie, who moved to Ashland from Eugene, Oregon, is attending AHS for her second year. Last fall, the letterman's club and the varsity football team selected Stevie to reign as homecoming queen.

Since coming to Ashland late last summer from the Philippines as an AFS representative, Lillette has become involved in many AHS activities. Her other activities include being a Rogue News staff member, a student council representative, and a member of IRC, Drama Guild, and humanities seminar.

Class Secretary

Pam has been an AHS homecoming princess for the past two years. During her sophomore year, Pam was a member of the JV rally squad. She is presently secretary of the class of 1967.

Sandy is secretary of the Ashland chapter of Future Business Leaders of America. Sandy was one of five senior girls selected by the letterman as a homecoming princess last October.

Chris, a two-year rally squad member, is AHS yell queen. Chris's variety of previous activities has included membership in ski club, student council, and AFS. This year, Chris is a member of the executive council, honor society, and humanities seminar, and the ski team.

South Set For UN Tour

Debbie South, junior, has been named this year's representative from Oregon for the United Nation's Pilgrimage for Youth.

In order to be selected, participants took a test which covered thoroughly knowledge and attitudes concerning the United Nations. Debbie received the highest score in the state.

Leaves in July

Debbie's trip will begin July 11 in Portland. The students and their chaperones will meet at the International Order of Odd Fellows' home in Portland for a dinner and reception. Then, traveling to New York by chartered bus, delegates from other northwestern states and Canada will join them. The delegates are expected to spend a week in New York visiting the United Nations and seeing the city.

This is the eighteenth year that the contest and pilgrimage has been conducted. Each year, each IOOF district in Oregon sponsors a high school student from its area. The Ashland Odd Fellows and Hope Rebekah Lodge and Beta Sigma Theta Rho girls club sponsored Debbie in the state contest. Since she won the state contest, Debbie now represents all branches of the state IOOF order, including the 27 Theta Rho girls clubs of Oregon.

AHS Represented

In past years a delegate from Ashland High has been selected to represent the Ashland lodges in the district contest. However, due to lack of student participation, they have discontinued their support.

Several students from Ashland have won this all-expense-paid trip before. They were Bill Lawrence in 1959, Judy Eberhart in 1961, and Linda Lewis in 1960. The trip will be paid for by the IOOF Lodge and the Theta Rho Assembly of Oregon.

Four Chosen For Student Honors

Four Ashland High school students were recently honored by separate community and school groups.

Carolyn Hassell was selected citizen of the six weeks by the citizen of the six weeks committee. Chris Wiley was honored as girl of the term by the Business and Professional Women of Ashland. Mel Clements was named boy of the month for February, and Curtis White received that honor for the month of March. Mel and Curtis were honored by the Ashland Kiwanis Club.

Organizes Party

Carolyn Hassell received her honor because of her chairmanship of the recent Peanuts Party. The dance was sponsored by the Student Council and Carolyn was in complete charge of the organization of the party. Besides her activities in student council, where she acts as a modern problems delegate, she is a member of Girls League and International Relations club. Carolyn was a cast member in this year's senior play. She is also a member of choir and acts as the secretary of that organization. She is active in her church youth group and was recently named to the 1967 prom court. Carolyn also wrote and presented the speech which won first place honors in the Voice of Democracy contest earlier this year.

BPW Award

The girl of the term for this six weeks is Chris Wiley. She was chosen for this honor by members of the faculty and was honored by the Ashland BPW organization. She was chosen on the basis of her many school and extracurricular activities. Chris is a member of the Ashland Youth Council and recently helped organize the Ashland car rally. She is also active in the new Ashland Youth Association. In the A.Y.A. she is helping to organize activities that may lead to a teen center in Ashland. Her school activities include membership in student council and interclub council. Chris has been a member of National Honor Society for two years. She is active in Humanities Seminar and is a member of Girls League. She has been a cheerleader for two years and is this year's yell queen. Chris is a member of this year's senior prom court.

Photographer

Mel Clements, boy of the month for February, received his award for his services as photographer for the school paper and the annual. He has been the photographer for the Rogue News for three years and has served as a reporter for the paper for that time. This is his first year as photographer for the Rogue. Mel is one of the few male members of Future Business Leaders of America. He recently enlisted in the United States Marine Corps Reserve, and plans to begin active duty shortly after graduation.

Activities Highlight Big Week

American Field Service sponsored an AFS week April 17-21. The week was designed to help the students learn more about AFS.

AFS week started with a special assembly Monday for Lillette Tumbagahan, AFS student from the Philippines.

Classes Compete

Each day AFS sold Tootsie Pops and the wrappers were collected by each class for the Tootsie Pop Tourney.

Grubbie buttons were sold for the grubbie day, Wednesday. A grubbie button entitled the student to wear grubbies and to go to the noon dance.

Students Visit

The climax of the week was Friday when all Rogue Valley AFS students attended school with host AHS students. The AFS students were presented at an assembly Friday. The students were Elio Albornoz from Colombia who attends Phoenix High School, Magda Biavasschi from Brazil and Simon Oldfield from Australia who both go to Medford High School, Sutti-porn from Thailand who attends Crater High School, and Erdal Yuzak from Turkey who goes to Grants Pass High School.

The AFS began at AHS in 1960. Ashland has had five AFS students. They were Yvonne Nicolson from South Africa, Ali Saner from Turkey, Chris Holberg from Germany, Kim Nguyen from Viet Nam, and Derek Leask from Australia. The AFS has also sponsored two Americans Abroad returnees, Carol Pennington and Cathy Phelps.

Kiwanis for his academic achievements. He ranks third in the senior class of 203 students. He is a member of the Ashland debate team and he recently won the right to go to State debate competition. Curtis has been a member of National Honor Society during his junior and senior years. He has participated in able and gifted classes for two years and was one of the first participants in Project Prometheus.

Curtis is currently a member of the Humanities Seminar and he has won recognition as a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship test. Besides these academic achievements, Curtis belongs to the Ashland American Field Service club and the AHS Drama Guild. In Drama Guild he serves as president this year. He was also a cast member in the senior play and is a member of National Thespian Society. Curtis is the Vice-President of the Senior Class.
