

These Cards To Be Dealt With

At The Junior-Senior Prom

The cards have been dealt, with seven senior "ladies" in the winning hand who will represent this year's prom court.

The princesses were recently selected by the junior class and one of them will reign as queen of the Junior-Senior Prom May 16. Those selected include Nedda Bestagno, Alice Dale, Lisa Fortmiller, Arlene Hassell, Jan Newton, Laurie O'Harra, and Stephanie Sceva.

AFS Student

Since coming to Ashland late last summer from Chile as an American Field Service representative, Nedda Bestagno has become involved in many Ashland High School activities. She is a member of the AFS club and Future Nurses of America organization along with participating in the humanities seminar and Great Decisions programs.

Alice Dale has gained many honors at AHS. She was chosen by the Business and Professional Women as the Girl of the Term earlier this year. Miss Dale was also a foreign exchange student in Ecuador last summer. This year she is on the rally squad, debate team, and a member of the National Honor Society.

Homecoming Princess

Lisa Fortmiller was one of seven girls selected by the Lettermen as a homecoming princess last fall. She also took part in the Able and Gifted classes held at the college this year. Miss Fortmiller is presently a member of the NHS and humanities seminar.

Arlene Hassell is AHS yell queen this year. She has gained such honors as Citizen of the Nine Weeks, Girl of the Term, and the Betty Crocker Homemaker of the year award. Miss Hassell is an active member of the NHS, the Chamber Choir, and AFS club. She also participated in the Able and Gifted classes this year.

Cheerleader

Cheerleading has occupied much of Jan Newton's time during her sophomore and senior years. She has also spent two years in student government activities. Earlier this month, Miss Newton was one of five finalists in the Miss Rogue Valley Pageant in which she won the talent contest.

The duties of sophomore and senior class secretary have kept Laurie O'Harra busy during her stay at AHS. Previous to this year, Miss O'Harra participated in student council and was a member of the Spirit, Scholarship, and Service committee.

Homecoming Queen

Stephanie Sceva was the AHS homecoming queen last October. Her various activities have included membership in the NHS, student council and the ski team. Miss Sceva is also on the girls track team this spring.
