Homecoming Activities Being Prepared

AHS students will gather around a bonfire to cheer our team on to victory and then to proceed with a car rally to a street dance to be held behind the Elk's Lodge, Thursday Oct. 19.

The traditional bonfire from 7:00 to 7:30 will be lit as students will cheer football players and wish them luck for their game Friday night. At 7:30 there will be a car rally through town from the high school to the parking lot of the Elk's Lodge. Then as soon as everyone arrives there will be music to dance to as the Street Dance gets into progress at 8:00.

The second half of the celebrations begins with all-school pep assembly at 3:05, Friday. Then there will be a parade through town at 3:45. All the clubs and any interested groups will display floats through town from the high school to the plaza.

As a conclusion there will be a football game against the Crater

Comets and at half time a queen will be chosen from among the five princesses who are: Maria Lalama, Nancy Hook, Jeri Stringer, Virginia Saul, and Pam Hoffbahr.

Tidings Resumes Teen Page

"It will be a student voice in community affairs." This is what Casey Dale had to say about the Teen Page now being organized by him and Vicki Jarrel.

This installment will appear in the Ashland Daily Tidings on a bi-weekly basis. It is the first such page in over three years.

Dale continued, "It will get students views across to the public and give them an idea of what school life is like."

The Teen Page will consist of a full page of teen related activities, including stories and pictures of campus activities. The Tidings is donating the space for the page and Ashland High will alternate with Phoenix High in the use of the page.

The Teen Page is entirely student organized and the staff consists entirely of students, with the exception of Mr. Clifford Brock, Journalism teacher, who will act as advisor. Rosario De La Torre will edit the copy for the page.

Any students interested in participating should contact Casey Dale or Vicki Jarrel.

Renowned Jazz Trumpetist To Perform

Don Ellis, famous jazz trumpeter, will appear in concert here, November the 10th.

Ashland Jazz Lab is sponsoring Ellis and his band for fund raising purposes.

Most members of Jazz Lab are very enthusiastic about it. Dave Sours, and Todd Maddox, both trumpet players for Jazz Lab, agree that "the concert should go over real good." Sours said, "the college Jazz Band thinks Don Ellis is the thing." Dave Koch, first trombone player said, "People around here don't hear much except rock music. The Don Ellis Band will give them a chance to hear real good Jazz."

But, there are some who don't agree. Joe Albachten, first trumpeter, says, "we shouldn't even do it. Because if we don't happen to break even, what will we do for money to Reno."

Jazz Lab advisor David Wight gave no comment or interview.

Tickets for the Ellis Concert will be on sale, and can be purchased from an Jazz Lab member, or in the office for $4.00 an adult, and $2.50 a student. Proceeds go to a fund for a trip to Reno.

French Paper To Be Printed

The Rogue News has a rival. French students will begin cranking out their newspaper within a few days.

The French Connection was published only once last year but Mrs. Simon hopes to put out a paper "about once a month."

The newspaper is written entirely in French. The paper is small, usually four pages, but still contains the elements of a professional newspaper. It has a news page, editorials, cartoons and even a crossword puzzle.

Amy McNair was elected editor this year. The rest of the staff is made up of about six other French students. The paper will include news about what's happening in French classes and what French students are doing. At the end of the month Mrs. Simon's classes will be cooking a French meal. Students have been planning their menus and Mrs. Simon referring to the meal said, "We tried it for the first time last year and it just worked out great."

Whizzes Join Hi-Q

Formation of a team to compete on the television game "Hi-Q" is underway.

Interested students first met Friday, October 12 at noon to hear what Hi-Q is all about. A written test was given Tuesday noon to begin narrowing down the possible contenders for team positions.

Those who did well in the written test go on to compete for the four team positions by participating in an oral question drill.

The four team members and one alternate will travel to Portland with team advisor Don Vondracek for a Thursday and Friday to tape the Sunday show.

Club Day Boosts Memberships

Club interest is up.

Ten clubs took time out on Friday, September 29th, to promote interest in their clubs. The clubs made displays or did demonstrations.

Students were dismissed during third and fourth periods to view the displays. Students roamed the quad talking to club representatives about the club and investigating club enrollment.

American Field Service display was Maria Lalama showing several artifacts that she had brought from Ecuador.

Chess club demonstrated the Fischer-Spassky championship games. Extra chess sets were set up so that students could play chess at their leisure.

Drama Club did some satires of TV shows and commercials, skits, singing, and dancing. Rosemary Olson and Casey Dale directed the program.

F.B.I.A. Club sold brownies and the friendship notes.

G.R.A. constructed a college which contained clippings of girls participating in athletic events. A G.R.A. first aid kit was also on display. The first aid kit was lipstick and other makeup.

Flag Girls, dressed in their uniforms, ran through some routines for the viewers.

I.R.S. displayed a stuffed digger squirrel and an open book to show the students a picture of an aardvark.

Letterman's Club brought four demonstration skateboards for students to try out. Also the official skateboard racing garb was displayed.
