Evidence Of Prehistoric Man

"I am fully convinced that there are unmistakable evidences of prehistoric man to be found in the mounds of Linn County, Oregon," said Professor Horner to his summer school class in ancient history this morning. "Crawford the Photographer and Doctor Hill, both of Albany, have personally made explorations and observations and taken photographs that are deserving of much consideration. For they have discovered tumuli or mound from which they have exhumed some remarkable specimens of antiquity. These discoveries are remarkable because they indicate similarity of religious burial and in this way help prove the common brotherhood, the religious character and progressive tendency of primordial man on the Pacific Coast. "Confessedly his condition was very simple, possibly rudimentary. But let us not call him the "monkey man" although his receding forehead and undeveloped cerebrum suggest a very low type of humanity—a type possibly more animal than human. Though there be local evidences that the earliest types of men existing in Oregon as revealed by mounds were lower than cannibals, let us think of them as men living in the babyhood of the world fulfilling their disposition to progress so long as conditions are normal."

Knights Pythias Grand Lodge

With the election of officers for the ensuing year the business session of the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias was brought to a close Tuesday afternoon at Pendleton.

The officers elected are: Grand chancellor, Frank Menefee, of The Dalles; grand vice-chancellor, Darwin E. Yorlan, Eugene; grand perlate, Geo. Schulerich, Hillsboro; supreme representative for a term of four years, L. M. Curl, Albany; grand keeper of records and seal, L. R. Stinson, Salem; grand master of exchequer, H. M. Maloney, Pendleton; grand master at arms, F. H. Rosenberg, Cottage Grove; grand inner guard, Geo. Knight, Hubbards; grand outer guard, S. M. White, Klamath Falls; grand trustee, G. C. Moser, Portland.

This will make the 14th consecutive term for Stinson and the 6th for Maloney. The other officers are all new. One of the features of the afternoon session was the enthusiastic report of Grand Chancellor Moser. Naturally a popular officer, he has had a most successful year, and the reading of his report was frequently interrupted by applause. At the conclusion he was given one of the biggest ovations ever tendered a man by the Grand Lodge.

Following are the delegates in attendance at the Grand Lodge session of the Knights of Pythias from this part of the state:

Valley, No. 11, of Corvallis—J. Fred

Yates, Victor Moses.
Dowdall, No. 16, of Brownsville—A. C. Foster, T. C. Isom.
Laurel, No. 7, of Albany—Willard L. Marks, C. C. Bryant, J. S. Van Winkle.
Homer, No. 45, of Independence—W. L. Bice, A. C. Moore.
Lucullus, No. 52, of Junction City—Edward Bailey, B. S. Hyland.

Dr. Long Will Return.

Dr. O. B. Long, brother of M. M. Long, of this city, who has been located at La Grange, Tenn., for some time, has decided to come back to Corvallis, which will be pleasing news to his old friends here. The Falcon, of Somerville, Tenn., has the following article on his leaving that section: "It is with a great deal of regret to our whole community that Dr. O. B. Long will leave us and return to Oregon, his native state. His fine courtesy, his gentle ways, his professional ability have won for him the love and affection of our people, but he has heard the call of the golden West; its memories have run riot through his youthful blood, and though he says our girls are the sweetest and fairest upon whom the sun ever shone and our Southern-hospitality has won his heart, he cannot resist the call. Oregon papers please copy. We want his home people to know what we think of him."

Star Theater Attractions

The Star will put on tonight two realistic picture attractions for the entertainment of their patrons, one being a thrilling story of love and adventure in Central America and the other a powerful moral, both full of interest and sure to please. At the Palace, Friday and Saturday nights there will be featured three different subjects of talk pictures and 2000 feet of regular pictures, a change from the usual program.

Mr. and Mrs. George Irvine and little daughter, Juanita, left this morning for a week's visit to relatives and friends at Brownsville.

There will be a special communication of Corvallis Lodge No. 14, A. F. and A. M. tonight, with work in the M. M. degree. All members are requested to be present.

Read the DAILY GAZETTE for all news.

IF all-wool fabrics were the rule in men's clothes there wouldn't be so much reason for talking about being sure of getting all-wool clothes. But all-wool isn't the rule; most of the men's clothes made today are made from fabrics with cotton in them.

This is true of practically all "cheap" clothes—we use the word cheap to mean price; a suit at $10 or $12 or even $15 is pretty apt to be cotton. But even when you pay $20 or $25 you can't always be sure of all-wool; because the weavers and clothing makers are certainly very skillful in the way they make cotton mixtures look like all-wool.

The safe way, the best way, about the only sure way we know of, to get all-wool, is to get Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes. They use none but all-wool fabrics; you can depend on it every time.

You'll get the tailoring and style, too.
