HOOD RIVER, OR., NOV. 9, 1899.

Last Monday was proclaimed a general holiday by Governor Rogers in honor of the returning of the Oregon Volunteers.

The Norwegian steamship Guernsey sailed from Portland last week with 3,430,653 feet of Oregon lumber as her cargo, and was dispatched by the Pacific Export Lumber Company.

The latest reports from the Transvaal states that the English had been victorious in an engagement at Ladysmith, and in addition to the Boers killed had taken two thousand prisoners.

Sumpter is enjoying a "heap big" boom these days. Mines and real estate are changing hands at fabulous prices, and building operations on an extensive scale is the general order of the day.

Reports from Cape Nome are about equally divided between the subjects of gold and typhoid fever. There seems to be quite a large amount of both there at the present time. It is said that two thousand men will leave the Klondike next Spring for the gold fields of Cape Nome.

The expression of the Oregonian that Admiral Dewey belittles himself by getting married so late in life will hardly find general response. Although sixty-two years of age Admiral Dewey is hale and hearty, and bids fair to live and enjoy life for twenty or twenty-five years to come, and it is not even regrettable he should seek a suitable companion with which to pass his remaining years by they few or many.

Many Democratic papers and leaders throughout the country are strongly supporting the administration in its Philippine policy. And why should they not? There is not one good reason for differing upon this question at the present time while there are many and potent reasons why all should unite in upholding the honor and integrity of our country. A determined and united movement all along the line—at home and abroad—will have a tendency to speedily settle the affair and settle it right.

The Transvaal war is proving to be something more than a skirmish. There are fighters on both sides and the reports from the field of hostilities indicate that each advancing step attempted by the Britons is stubbornly met by the followers of Oom Paul, who appear to be not only well equipped for war but also intelligent and brave fighters. It is not within our province to say which side has the most of justice—possibly both have reason for taking the stand they hold—but we must say that it is highly regrettable that their differences could not have been adjusted without the great loss of life that has taken place and which will yet result before the conflict ends.

No great progress was ever yet made in a town where the people were divided, or in which all efforts were for keeping back advancement. It requires a united and aggressive people to make a town grow, no matter how great may be its natural advantages. That Hood River Valley has many and decided natural advantages in the way of location, soil, water, timber, transportation facilities, and climate unparalleled, no one can question, and there can be no justifiable reason why our town should not grow to three times its present size during the next four or five years. A personal grievance should never be allowed to stand in the way of public enterprise and mutual advancement. All should work as much in harmony as possible on every question that has for its fundamental principle the betterment of the town, socially, morally or financially. A live, up-to-date and progressive people are not usually found in a dead town. That Hood River is not dead is apparent to every one, but that her progress might easily be augmented no one will question.

THE STATE ELECTIONS.

Up to the hour of going to press it has been impossible for the SUN to obtain any authentic reports from the election in the different states, though the indications are that it has been a republican victory all along the line. Ohio has undoubtedly gone republican by an overwhelming majority. In Nebraska, where the opposition has made a desperate fight, the vote promises to be close with chances good for the republicans. New York is claimed by Crocker but the returns sometimes change such early boasting. Kentucky has her usual amount of excitement and from several points come reports of trickery.

In other states the vote polled seems to have been light.

John Neece, of Hood River, was in the city last week looking over the situation on the new line with a view to taking some of the sub-contracts.—Moro Leader.

Charles W. Clark, the popular Hood River Druggist, left this morning for home after having visited friends here and in Dufur, yesterday.—Times-Mountaineer.

Frank Miller left at this office Saturday a turnip weighing 49 pounds, raised from government seed gotten at this office and grown on his ranch two miles above town.—Goldendale Sentinel.

In the case of Charles Prather, charged with assaulting Leonard Field with a dangerous weapon last Thursday, near Mosier, and which came up for hearing in Justice Bayard's court yesterday afternoon, he was bound over in the sum of $250 to appear before the grand jury.—The Dalles Chronicle.

Supt. C. L. Gilbert and Prof. J. T. Neff attended the Hood River Teachers' Association, which held its first meeting last Saturday, with an attendance of about thirty. In the near future a similar association will be organized at Dufur. Meetings will be held once a month, at which time some standard work on teaching will be read and discussed. The study of the course of study for grammar grade schools of Oregon will be a special feature of the meeting. With better teachers the natural result will be better schools.—The Dalles Chronicle.

The effect of spraying apple orchards and giving them proper care is shown by the result obtained by S. A. Sears, of Hood River. He has a small orchard which he sprayed several times during the season and has harvested therefrom 600 boxes of apples for which he has already been offered $1.50 per box. In his fruit there is not two per cent of the apples that are wormy, while his neighbors who have given their orchards less care find from 40 to 50 per cent of their apples unmarketable because of the fact they are full of worms.—The Dalles Times-Mountaineer.

Editor S. P. Shutt is in Sumpter. To Mr. Shutt belongs a large amount of credit for having stood up for Sumpter in the dark days when she was struggling to secure a railroad and to be placed on the map of Oregon. He then owned the News, which has since become the American, which is accentuating and extending the good work of standing up for Sumpter he so well began.

Mr. Shutt has so much faith in this town that he has leased his paper, the Hood River Sun, for one year, and will give his attention to looking after his real estate and mining interests in and around Sumpter. He has many friends hereabouts, and is a shrewd business man, and the chances are that he will make good money here during the next twelve months.—Blue Mountain American.

Obituary.

DIED.—On Monday morning, Nov. 6, at 4:30 o'clock, Lucy, beloved wife of Mr. C. A. Bell, aged 18 years, 10 months and 15 days.

The people of Hood River were deeply grieved on Monday morning last to learn that in the early hours of the morning the death angel had entered the home of Mr. C. A. Bell, of Mt. Hood Hotel, and taken his wife, who, only a few brief days before was about, and apparently in her usual good health. The lady was ill but four days, but though careful and skilled attention was given her by physicians and friends, it was impossible to save her life, an attack of pneumonia, complicated with septicæmia, having caused her death.

Deceased was formerly Miss Lucy Ellison, and had been a resident of Hood River for nearly half of her life. Her mother, two sisters and three brothers, are left to mourn her early death, and they, together with the sorrowing husband, have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community of Hood River valley in their sad affliction.

The funeral took place from her late home at Mt. Hood hotel on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. Hershner. A large number of friends attended, many of whom followed her remains as they were carried to the L. O. O. F. cemetery and there laid to rest. Many beautiful floral tributes were laid on her casket, and the grave was also strewn with flowers from the hands of sorrowing relatives and sympathizing friends.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES.

There have been 185 pupils enrolled at the public school so far this year.

The primary, second, and third departments met in Miss Graham's room last Friday afternoon for entertainment.

The second meeting of the Hood River Teachers' Association convened in Room A, last Saturday. The meeting was opened by an address by Pres. F. B. Barnes, after which Supt. Gilbert talked about the State course of Study. C. D. Thompson presented the topic "Is too much arithmetic taught in our public schools?" Both of these topics were quite generally discussed. Several teachers, as well as patrons and pupils, were present and the exercises were interspersed with music and recitation. A very interesting program has been prepared for the next meeting, which is to be held about Dec. 9. The public is invited to attend these meetings, since they are held for the benefit of our public schools.

High Water Advertising Mark.
The New York Herald of April 11 printed an editorial statement that on the previous day (Sunday, April 10) its paid advertising reached the high water mark in that journal's history. The Chicago Tribune on that same day, however, printed not only more advertising than the New York Herald, but what is believed to be the greatest amount ever printed in a single issue of any regular main edition of a newspaper. Leaving out of account the twenty-two columns of advertising printed by the New York Herald and the Chicago Tribune, the New York Herald and New Jersey supplement printed 7,822 agate lines of advertising, including those supplements, it claims more than 10,000 agate lines of paid advertising. Even allowing the Herald to claim advertising in its Brooklyn and New Jersey supplements, the New York Herald on that day still fell short of "The Tribune" by more than 1,000 lines in the actual amount of paid advertising.

The exact figures are given as follows: The New York Herald of April 11 printed in its main edition, exclusive of its Brooklyn and New Jersey supplement, 7,822 agate lines of advertising, including those supplements, it claims more than 10,000 agate lines of paid advertising. The Chicago Tribune printed 1,084 agate lines of advertising, including those supplements, it claims more than 1,000 lines of paid advertising.
