A very merry party was the gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bateham Monday Dec. 25th. The party consisted of Rev. J. L. Hershner and family, Dr. Brosius and family, Prof. Thompson and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bateham, Mr. A. P. Bateham and Prof. F. B. Barnes. The dinner table was literally loaded with good things to refresh the inner man, and the graceful tact of the host and hostess made every one feel at home. The afternoon and evening were devoted to games in which all took part and vied with one another in making the day pass pleasantly. The party broke up at an early hour and the Christmas of 1899 will long be remembered by all present at the Columbia Nursery with pleasure.
The Christmas entertainment given at the Congregational church last Saturday evening was a very pleasant event and attended by a full house. The program was well rendered and quite interesting, some of the parts being worthy of special mention. The tree was well laden with presents, the distribution of which undoubtedly brought much gladness to the recipients, especially the younger portion. The several missives from Santa Claus and his later appearance were much in evidence in producing great enthusiasm among the little folks. The very large number present unable to secure seats was a forcible argument in favor of a larger place being built in our town to accommodate public gatherings of a similar nature.
The M. E. Christmas tree and entertainment held at the church Christmas night was an occasion of much enjoyment to those attending, and especially to the large number of children that were present. An appropriate and very interesting program was rendered and thoroughly appreciated. The class exercises of the little ones were good, as was also the music both by the choir and others who participated. A duet by Miss Lillian Shute and Miss Statie Montgomery, and a solo by Miss Vera Jackson are deserving of special mention. The tree and evergreen decorations presented a very pleasing appearance and the presents were quite numerous. An effort was made to give all members of the school a sack of nuts and candy, together with all the other children who were present, and if there was failure in this respect it was wholly unintentional. Altogether it was an occasion that will be pleasantly remembered by all who were present.
A. H. Tieman, one of the early settlers of Hood River valley, whose home was near Mt. Hood, died last Thursday morning and was buried on Friday, in Idlewild cemetery by the Masonic Lodge of Hood River, of which he was an honored member. Deceased was about 83 years of age, and lived alone with the exception of hired help. In his will he bequeathed all his property to Hood River lodge A. F. and A. M., less the amount necessary to pay a few debts. The property will probably amount to $5,000 or $6,000 and he stipulated that it be used in the purchase of a lot and the erection of a two-story brick building thereon, the upper story to be used as a lodge room and the lower story to be rented, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the lodge. The board of executors as named in the will are Messrs. E. E. Savage, A. S. Blowers and Wm Yates, and no bond was required of them. We understand that steps will at once be taken to probate the will and carry out the instructions contained therein.

A telephone message from Mosjer yesterday morning announced the death of Herbert Rolland, a young man about 20 years of age, and quite well known to many of our people. The cause of death was quick consumption.
The present is an appropriate time for making good resolutions. Look back over the closing year, note where you have erred and resolve for the future to do so no more. If you haven't been living up to your privileges, just "swear off" on your misdeeds and determine to do better. Of course editors have no reason for "swearing off", but the Sux will start out in the new year with the resolution firmly grounded to make each issue better than the preceding one. In the words of the illustrious John Jones, or some other equally great and noted writer, "now is the time to subscribe."
New Year's Dinner.
The ladies of the Congregational church will give a New Year's dinner next Monday (New Year's Day) at the store building of R. Rand & Son, (recently vacated by A. S. Blowers & Son.) at the following hours: 12 to 2 P. M. and from 5 to 7:30 P. M. The best market affords will be served at 25 cents, children 15 cents. Home made candies, best quality will be for sale. The social committee, consisting of Mrs. Georgia Bone, Mrs. F. C. Brosius and Mrs. M. F. Shaw, will provide a full evening of fine entertainment. The art gallery will be unique. Prizes will be given to those guessing the largest number of profiles of Hood River people, noted and unnamed. Evening's entertainment will be free. Admission to art gallery 5 cents.
