On Tuesday, December 30 at 10 a.m., friends, family, and co-workers gathered in the Commissioners Chambers of the Baker County Courthouse to attend the swearing-in ceremony for Bill Harvey, County Commission Chair; Mark Bennett, County Commissioner; Cindy Carpen, County Clerk; and Alice Durlinger, County Treasurer, all elected to their positions this November.

Tami Green first administered the Oath of Office to Carpenter, who is replacing Green as County Clerk. Both held up their right hands, and Carpenter repeated (filling in her name):

“I, Cindy Carpenter, do

solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States of America, and the Constitution of the State of Oregon, and the law thereof, and will faithfully and honorably demean myself in the office of County Clerk, to which I’ve been elected, to the best of my ability, so help me God.”

Durlinger, Bennett and Harvey were all sworn in following Carpenter, repeating the same oath, the only difference being their name and the position to which they were elected.

Each received their own applause, and upon completion of the oaths, an enthusiastic, “Here, here,” with further applause, was heard from the crowd.

BAKER CITY POLICE FOIL LOCAL WOMAN’S PLAN TO HAVE EX-BOYFRIEND MURDERED

Emily Munsell, 24, of Baker City, was arraigned Monday.

Emily Munsell, age 24 and a resident at 1356 Dewey Avenue in Baker City, was arrested last Friday and charged with one count of solicitation to commit murder.

According to an initial press release from the District Attorney’s office and other reports, the Baker City Police Department received a tip from one of Munsell’s relatives that Munsell was looking to hire a hitman to murder her ex-boyfriend—who is also her son’s father.

The local police initiated an undercover sting operation, which resulted in Munsell’s arrest after she tried to hire the officer for the murder. Munsell was allegedly willing to pay up to $1,000 for the murder.

Munsell was arraigned this Monday.

Though a Class A felony if convicted, the solitary charge might only carry a three to five year prison sentence—but as a guidelines sentence the range could potentially be broader and carry a tougher sentence dependent in part on factors such as the accused criminal background, according to District Attorney Matt Shirtcliff.

This particular crime would not fall under Oregon’s Ballot Measure 11. Measure 11 was a citizens’ initiative passed in 1994 and sponsored by then-State Representative Kevin Mannix, which established minimum sentences for certain criminal offenses.

Huntington awarded $3 million grant

By Eileen Driver

The City of Huntington has been awarded and has accepted a $3 million grant from the Infrastructure Finance Authority, or IFA, to totally replace the City’s existing sewer system.

According to Tracy Mclean, the Huntington City Recorder, “This is the largest grant we have ever received and the largest project we have ever undertaken.”

The current system, which was built in the 1960s and revamped in the 1980s, has been the subject of much debate for the last several years between City Officials and the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ).

ODOT ADVISES AGAINST USING UNFAMILIAR ALTERNATIVE ROUTES

By Brian Addison
Brian@TheBakerCountyPress.com

The mountain passes between Baker City and Pendleton, and the curves and shady spots between Baker City and Ontario offer some of the most treacherous winter driving conditions in the U.S. Every year drivers traveling through this region become victims of slick roads with Interstate-84 setting the scene of several devastating motor vehicle accidents in the past several years.

Sometimes these accidents prove fatal.

Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT) recognizes the safety hazards posed by harsh winter conditions in this region combined with heavy semi-truck and pas-
