Trail Tenders travel through time

Saturday, June 11th, 6:30 p.m. Trail Tenders will host "Time Travels through the American West" in the Leo Adler Theater at the National Historic Oregon Trail Interpretive Center. "Time Travels through the American West," features singer/songwriter Christina Lynn Martin and Cowboy poet/balladeer Butch Martin performing highlights of the critically acclaimed documentary concert "Romancing the West" which tours throughout the US.

Historic documentary meets live concert performance in this unique and epic time traveling experience.

"Romancing the West" has been presented in many theaters and venues from Gene Autry Museum's Wells Fargo Theater in Los Angeles, Historic San Juan Capistrano, to Piper's Opera House in Nevada, and Portland Oregon to name a few.

It is a special honor for the producers to come to Baker City at Oregon Trail Interpretive Center, where the wagon tracks still mark the land and where so much of the history took place.

According to Martin: "When sharing this history where it actually took place, we and the audience get a very special sacred feeling.

"From the cliffs overlooking Chief Joseph's winter grounds, to the California Trail Interpretive Center, where the pioneers had crossed Alkali dessert and faced the formidable Sierras and from Historic Jacksonville, Oregon, which produced more gold than Sutter's Mill to the Midwest where the pioneers began their daunting journey, the presence of those who came before us is felt at every performance."

This special presentation takes the audience from the 1700s through the Civil War, the turn of the century to the Golden Age of Hollywood.

The 90-minute show brings the old west to life in rare film, historic photos and video, and memorable original music taking the audience through decades of social and political change, exploring both the tragic and the triumphant episodes of history to celebrate the pioneering human spirit and diverse legacy of the American West.

For tickets call Oregon Trail Interpretive Center, (541) 523-1843.

Doors for the performance open at 6:00 p.m. Admission is $5.00 at the door.

The National Historic Oregon Trail Interpretive Center is located at 22267 Oregon Hwy 86, just five miles east of Baker City.

Snake River Chinook season closes below Hells Canyon Dam

The Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife today announced the spring Chinook fishery on the Snake River below Hells Canyon Dam closed at sundown (8:30 p.m.) Thursday, June 2. The closure is recommended as fishery managers estimate the harvest limit will be reached.

The sudden closure is attributed to high catch rates during the past few weeks, combined with a modest harvest limit for the year.

"During the past two weeks, salmon fishing below Hells Canyon Dam has been excellent", said Jeff Yanke, District Fish Biologist in Enterprise. "Due to the angling effort from the holiday weekend, we have rapidly approached our harvest limit."

The closure on the Snake River is concurrent with fishery closures ordered by the Idaho Department of Fish and Game at the end of fishing on June 2.
