The Elkhorn Grange held their annual Cowboy Breakfast to begin the 4th of July celebration in Haines.

This year, they served nearly 400 people and had 15 volunteers to help serve the pancake breakfast. In the past, this event has served nearly 600 people. It is their biggest fundraiser of the year; the second is the Fall Festival in October.

The Grange provides and buys the food for the annual breakfast of pancakes, eggs, meat and refreshments.

Illingsworth explained that the Sumpter Junction restaurant had offered to donate food for the event.

However, she was unable to contact the restaurant for this year's breakfast, but will do so for next year. "This is probably the 38th or 40th one we've done," stated Joanne Illingsworth, a member of the Elkhorn Grange and organizer of the breakfast. "Not mine, I've only done about seven."

Illingsworth has been a member of the Elkhorn Grange for seven years and was put in charge of the breakfast after joining.

"The Grange has been here since 1948," said Illingsworth. "It was actually a school house out in the old Baltic Slou and they moved it here and they've been doing breakfasts every year and now it's a school again."

The Grange is now the school and church for the Black Cap Mennonites.
