Wayne Hathaway

Baker City, 1917-2017

Wayne Hathaway, 100 years old, died peacefully March 13, 2017 at his residence at Settler's Park Assisted Living in Baker City, Oregon. A memorial service for Wayne will be at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses located at 975 S. Bridge Street, Baker City, April 29th at 2:00 p.m.

Wayne was born January 28, 1917 to parents George and Nellie Hathaway in Wilder, Idaho. He was the youngest of 12 children including five brothers and seven sisters. As a young boy he would use the family wagon to gather sagebrush for firewood on the hills near Wilder. Wayne's family moved to Klickitat, Washington when he was seven years old. When he was 20, a surprise meeting by friends led him to his wife Dorothy "Dot" Smith. They were married New Year's Day, 1938.

Wayne operated heavy equipment and worked on several projects around Oregon and Washington. He built roads and logged in the late 1930s. In the early 1940's he opened a garage in Lyle, Washington working on farm equipment and cars. He also worked as a mechanic in Baker City with his good friend Argil Warden.

One of Wayne's favorite things to do was fishing. He told stories of huge steelhead he caught on the Klickitat and Molalla river, and he enjoyed fishing in the lakes and streams around Baker City.

Wayne was one of Jehovah's Witnesses for more than 75 years. He started to learn about the Bible along with his father and wife. They were baptized as Jehovah's Witnesses in 1942. Wayne used his skills as a crane operator and volunteered his time on two different occasions to help with the expansion of Headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in Wallkill, New York. Wayne was also a Caretaker of the Assembly Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses in Woodburn, Oregon for many years. Wayne also served as an elder in the Baker City congregation for many years.

When asked earlier this year what his secret to growing old was, he was quoted as saying, "It was due to living a good clean life and of course, having a great wife."

Wayne is survived by his loving wife Dot of 79 years; daughters Connie Carnagey of Baker City, Oregon, Jeannette and her husband Ronald Harrop of Fishkill, New York; grandsons Joseph Carnagey and wife Annitta of Nampa, Idaho and Philip Carnagey and wife Angie of Boise, Idaho.

For those who would like to make a memorial donation in memory of Wayne may do so on line at jw.org or locally to the Kingdom Hall in Baker or Halfway through Tami's Pine Valley Funeral Home & Cremation Services PO Box 543 Halfway, Oregon 97834.
