Juni Fisher to appear July 2 in the park

Next Sunday, July 2, 4 to 6 p.m., the Powder River Music Review July in Baker City welcomes Juni Fisher to the Powder River Pavilion in the Geiser-Pollman Park.

Born in the San Joaquin Valley of California, Fisher grew up in a farming family, but between school and countless singing performances with her two sisters, Juni found a way to have horses, and 4-H and FFA honors followed her through out her school years. While studying Equine Science at the College of the Sequoias in Visalia, she rode young horses for her customers, and became known as a good horse show "catch rider": she rode her way through college, with top honors at Intercollegiate and Quarter Horse shows. Meanwhile, she was earning horse show entry money singing big band standards in a dance orchestra.

Her first Western release, "Tumbleweed Letters" (1999) reached Monterey Cowboy Poetry and Music Festival director Gary Brown in late 2003.

He shared Juni's music with other promoters and soon Juni would shift to music full time as her profession.

Fisher now performs at the major festivals, and concert venues of all sizes across the US, and spends saddle time on her snaffle bit futurity prospect (young horse,) as she prepares for the 2017 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity competition in Fort Worth, TX.

Music is made possible by audience donations to each event, donations from music sponsors.

"Lorelei Bradley is a unique and magical heroine as entrancing as the cupcakes she bakes. With a delicious plot ... surprisingly funny as well."

- Christopher Durang, Tony Award-winning playwright

Lorelei's cupcakes aren't just ordinary cupcakes...

Quirky Lorelei Bradley knows what lonely hearts crave—hers being the loneliest heart of all. When she arrives in town, no one is prepared for what she has in store. Luxurious and alluring to the point of being nearly magical, Lorelei's confections lead her straight out of despair and into very her own bakery by the sea. The problem is, she's a woman on the run.

... they're the cure for empty hearts and broken dreams.

Cobweb Corners, New Hampshire has only a few police officers—one being handsome Chase Harris. But Chase is surprised when the only thing more interesting than Sea Salt Caramel or Madagascar Vanilla and Honey is their mysterious and entrancing creator. With a bag of stolen cash under Lorelei's bed and a few illegal trespassing incidents under her belt, will he wind up arresting her, or will she whisk her way into his broken heart? What is her secret anyway?
