County: 911 Call Center

Harvey called the session to order, and Ash discussed his management proposal for the operation of the Baker County 911 Consolidated Dispatch Center (this has been a continuing discussion between the City and the County, with unresolved issues).

Ash said that the County's adopted budget falls short of Ash's proposed budget for the operation of the Sheriff's Office and the Center, by about $8,000, and that this year's budget is about $30,000 less than last year's budget. He said that there are already budget overages.

Harvey asked Martin if the County had received any applications for reserve dispatcher positions, and Martin said one or two, but that the application deadline wasn't until Friday, June 30, 2017.

Ash said that eight dispatchers would be the minimum number required for proper operation of the Center.

Bennett said he wants to hear more on the subject from the City, and that the City's budget, and in extension the County's, has been affected negatively, with the additional expense of a new City position this fiscal year.

Nichols agreed with Bennett, that he wants also to hear more from the City regarding its plan to assist the County with funding shortfalls.

Harvey said his position is that the Center structure is already set, and that he doesn't want to see more workload for the Sheriff's Office.

He said that a full-time Center Director has been fully budgeted, it's the best approach, and that he had planned to speak with members of the City Council on Wednesday evening, June 28, during a City-County meeting covering the subject.

Spencer provided the Board with an update regarding the proposed sale of Parks Department property known as "Shanghai Creek," a matter for which a public hearing was held, during the Wednesday, June 21, 2017 regular session.

Issues include the total size of parcels, and which ones would form the most appealing sale package, to potential buyers.

Harvey and Bennett previously said that they preferred the foreclosure, local sale route to sell the properties and provide revenue for the Parks Department, and Nichols said that, with the possibility of using realtors to facilitate the sale, a broader range of potential buyers could be reached.

Noting several details to work out, Harvey said that this discussion will continue, to the Wednesday, July 5 regular session.

As part of a general

Parks Department update, Spencer told the Board that due to a storm the Department's computer system (at the time of this writing) had been damaged, and as a result, site reservations could not be made online, but that the Department was working to resolve the issue.

The Board discussed potential mining of the Sumpter Dredge tailings, and Harvey said that the County will draft an RFP (Request for Proposals), and that the proposed area would initially be 40 acres, with the possibility of an 80-acre option.

He said that all State and County requirements would need to be met, and the proposed area would be the south side of the dredge tailings, away from the road and the railroad, more in the rangeland area, with the goal of mining if possible, and to restore some of the dredge tailings, but for now, the RFP is the first step.

Martin discussed a County foreclosure property with the Board, at 1244 3rd Street, the sale of which was authorized on December 7, 2016 by the Board, with a minimum bid of $30,000.

She said that there had been issues with squatters on the property, but that McQuisten and other maintenance staff have since boarded up the house, and have made it more secure.

Martin said that there were no bidders during the auction conducted by the County, that a private buyer has shown interest, and that by law, in that case, the County could drop the sale price to as low as $25,500.

She said that the potential buyer has proposed a down payment, and a payment schedule with the County.

Bennett said that, as he's stated before, he still thinks that the School District would benefit from purchasing the property (it's located just east of South Baker Elementary School, at the corner of 3rd and Grace streets).

He said that it makes sense, considering parking and other concerns.

Nichols asked if the School District actually wants to purchase the property, and Harvey said that the District isn't currently interested, which is what Harvey had last heard.

Bennett asked Martin about a potential private sale, and Martin said that an order would need to be drafted and approved by the Board for that method.

McQuisten discussed different details of the property, and he said that he's in favor of selling it as soon as possible.

The Board gave Martin guidance regarding the drafting of a new order, which would specify the requirements of a potential sale.

~ Thank you ~

The family of Bill Boles and Steve Boles wishes to thank their many friends, relatives and businesses who have reflected on their lives. We are grateful to everyone who attended the funeral service for Bill and also to those who paid tribute to Steve online, sharing memories and stories at Tami's Pine Valley Funeral Home website. Special thanks to Pastor Lenny Spooner for the beautiful service and fitting tribute and also pianist Darlene Nelson. Finally a sincere thank you to Tami Waldron and Stephanie Brown of Tami's Pine Valley Funeral Home and Cremation Services for the respect and dignity shown to our family at this time.

Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat upon a chair.
Perhaps you sent us beautiful flowers, If so, we saw them there.
Perhaps you prayed, spoke the kindest words that any friend could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us these days.
Perhaps you brought food, everything was helpful and good.
Perhaps you ran an errand for us, drove and sat at weekly dialysis.
Whatever you did, whatever your part, we thank you so much for consoling our hearts.
Everyone's sympathy and thoughtfulness will always be gratefully remembered and deeply appreciated.
