

Kay's Notations

Kathryn H. Bogle, Social Editor

Members of Mt. Hood Chapter, No. 16, were hostesses on Sunday afternoon at the YWCA for a reception honoring three of their members who are grand officers.

Sharing honors were: Mrs. Abbie Cantrell, grand associate matron, Mrs. Grace Purcell, grand warden, and Mrs. Anna Mae Lee, grand deputy. Mrs. Lee was ill and could not attend the affair.

About a hundred guests called to offer best wishes though the afternoon was blustery. Corsages were presented by the chapter to their guests of honor but a surprise were the orchid leis flown from Hawaii as a presentation to the three grand officers from the Honolulu chapter.

The attractive tea table was laid with a lace cloth and had an unusual centerpiece made of all white flowers. The tea cakes were white, too, but forecast the next holiday with their Christmas holiday decorations.

Mrs. Alice Robinson, vocalist and Juanita Thomas, pianist, entertained during the tea hours as did little Carol Maxel, pianist who played a piano duet with her teacher Mrs. Helen Blanchard.

Mrs. Gladys Ricks was reception chairman.

Off to Seattle for a busy week end were Mrs. Francis Williams, Mrs. Allie Jacobson and Mrs. Oteria Nicholson. They met with Seattle's graduate chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority to formulate plans for establishment of a Portland chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGuire, accompanied by their infant son, Michael, will spend Christmas in Athens, Alabama. This will be the first meeting for Michael and his four grandparents and several other relatives who live in Athens.

Mrs. Marion McClear entertained the McGuires at dinner just prior to their departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Craven were quietly married on Thanksgiving Eve at St. Luke's Episcopal church in Vancouver.

Mrs. Craven, the former Nancy Lucille Carr, wore a simple afternoon frock of aqua blue lace and accessories of blue.

Father L. O. Stone, vicar of St. Phillip's church in Portland, officiated.

Good news has been received by Mrs. U. S. Reed that her young grandson, nine-year-old La Verne Jordan, Jr. has been released from the hospital where he was a polio patient for several weeks. Effects of the polio attack will be nominal.

La Verne visited his grandmother in Portland this summer, but lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. La Verne Jordan, Sr. in Lewiston, Idaho.

The Eugene H. Settles of Moscow, Idaho, spent several days visiting with Mrs. Reed, Mr. Settles and Mrs. Reed are brother and sister.

A birthday dinner party honoring three, with one whopping big birthday cake to share, was the happy choice this year for Mrs. Richard Winslow, Sally Williams, and Lawrence Campbell, whose birthdates are very close together.

About 25 guests made up the dinner party at the Lawrence Campbells last Sunday afternoon.

For a surprise element Richard Winslow arranged for the party to continue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Young as a bit of special recognition for his wife. Dancing was the diversion.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright with their son William, came down from Seattle to be with their Portland relatives over the Thanksgiving week-end.

The Wrights were among the many relatives who attended the Thanksgiving Day christening of James Peters, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Unthank Jr. of Eugene. The baby was baptized at St. Philips by Bishop Benjamin D. Dagwell.

God parents were Mr. and Mrs. George Schwartz, Miss Kathy Burgess and Tom Hardy. Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. D. N. Unthank.

The senior Unthinks were dinner hosts later in the day for the big family.

Here to spend a brief Thanksgiving holiday with the Rev. and Mrs. Jesse L. Boyd were the Rev. and Mrs. C. Wayne Love of Bethel AME church in San Francisco and the Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Toliver of the First AME church in Seattle.

A special guest at the Boyd's holiday dinner table was Edene Ekong of Nigeria, who is a freshman student at Portland State college.

The Loves visited in Seattle, with the Tolivers before returning to the bay city.

Mrs. Samuel Durly has returned from a six-weeks' stay in Denver where she went to be with her mother during the latter's convalescence following a serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Baker were dinner hosts recently at their home for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Nelson.

Mrs. L. J. Campbell is having fun arranging parties with a business purpose for the company which employs her. Among her hostesses have been Mesdames L. B. McIntere, Mary Carr, Mary Julia Booker, Eula Murray, and Estella Jackson.

At home again after several weeks visiting in eastern cities is Mrs. James Williams.

One of the company of 15 dancers will be Ann Williams when Nicholas Vasilieff, ballet master, presents a ballet program at the Civic theatre on Dec. 15 and 16. Miss Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Williams.

Attending a family reunion in Kansas City, Missouri is Mrs. Herman Plummer.

Leaving by plane this week to spend the Christmas holidays with friends in Atlanta, Georgia, is Mrs. Willis Augustus Reed. After Christmas, Mrs. Reed, a past basileus for her chapter, will represent Portland's Beta Eta Sigma chapter at a five-day boule of Sigma Gamma Rho sorority in Cleveland, Ohio.

Accompanying Mrs. Reed (aunt Polly) as far as Chicago will be Florice and Laodice, the small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Walker.

In Chicago the little girls will be met by their maternal grandmother Mrs. John Parrish who will take them to her home in Canton, Miss. The children will be there with their grandparents for Christmas and for an indefinite stay.
