

Baptist Church Bills Job Guides

A vocational and educational institute designed to present facts about job opportunities and stress the importance of preparing for them is planned for Vancouver Avenue First Baptist church Friday, May 29, and Sunday, May 31, Rev. O. B. Williams, pastor, announced recently.

The institute is sponsored by the church and will be conducted by the staff of the Urban League of Portland. It will consist of an afternoon and evening session Friday, with talks by John S. Holley and E. Shelton Hill, and a general session Sunday, to be addressed by Edwin C. Berry.

Sectional discussion groups are scheduled to follow the first two talks. Hill will outline many of the occupational fields now open to non-whites. Holley will give details on how to qualify for the better occupations.

12 Grand Splits Softball Games

Twelve Grand bridge club won the first game of a double header, 10-9, from a youthful team managed by Richard Winslow Sunday at Irving park but dropped the nightcap, 9-8. Both games kept fans on the edge of their seats.

Home runs by Herman "Flash" Plummer and Vernon Chatman highlighted the 12 Grand win. Chatman also made a sensational catch in centerfield to rob the Winslow nine of a sure run.

Isaac Harpole and Willis Williams toiled on the mound for 12 Grand.

Kappa President

Thomas Bradley, polemarch of the Western Province of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, terminated his official tour of the chapters in the province when he visited the Delta Alpha chapter of Portland, Oregon, the first weekend in May. The province encompasses the states of Arizona, California, Washington and Oregon.

During his stay, Bradley inspected the chapter's records and files and found everything "in good order, and progressing nicely." Bradley said he was very
