Its Up to You

A demonstration of student government will be shown Monday at West Linn when student body office elections will be held. Every student will be interested in the returns of this election and every student should, therefore, take heed in voting for their candidate. This election is not going to be held for the purpose of putting your friend in office but for the purpose of putting a candidate in office that will have the ability of fulfilling the office.

Will the person be capable, interested in the work, take responsibilities, show leadership, and please the emajority of the students. These are some of the qualities that the office holders need and should be taken into consideration when voting for your candidate.

West Linn is a school that tries new ideas and makes them work. But before we can do this, we have to have leaders that will be able to put these ideas over to themselves and to the student body as well; someone with leadership.

You students know the candidates that are up for the offices. You know if they can do the work required. So the returns are up to you; vote wisely.

DUST BOWL

By BETTY ERBEN

A certain little boy from a certain little school, face changing shades when he saw Esther Toedemeier. Or was it the left shoulder of her reversible. Nothing like advertising is there, Esther? . . . Bill Buckles trying to find a joke fit to tell some of his cronies. We could refer you to . . . Johnny Morrison giving his sweater to Dot Malory or Tigard and then chasing around all over trying to get it back. Indian Giver. . . Betty Helsby seen at the Art museum in Portland when she should have been at school. Art for Art's sake? I won-

SNOOPIN' JUPE

by EARL MERKLE

Just between you and me, I don't think that there is anybody in this school who can beat Coach Brown at "Jitterbugging." If you don't believe me, come on out to the noon dances on Wednesdays.

Marian Nelson seems to be thinking only of one thing nowadays, and that thing is a handsome dark-haired chap from across the ditch.

By the way, does anyone know where I can buy a West Linn sticker?

Betty Helsby still insists that she is privileged to be in the halls without a hall pass.

It seems to me like these frosh and softies around here do all right for themselves. Take a look at Red Eaden and Hazel Grassman.

Hoss Herndon really got "stiff" Saturday night. Nope, you're wrong—He took a bath in starch.

I am sorry, boys, you got the right church but the wrong pew. (Quotation from a comical scene witnessed by several West Linn chaps.)

Jack Hollenbeck seeing quite a bit of a certain O. C. gal lately. Did it bite you Holly?

der. . . . Loren Fields puzzling over who his new flame is. Maxine Bolz seems to know but won't tell. Could be his newly acquired car has something to do with it. . . . Violet Tiedeman overheard telling Lorraine Payne, "I'll see you late. I gotta get a drink." Hmmm, indulging! . . . Frances Dobson believes in comfort. Were your shoes too tight, Frances? . . . Kate Zivney stealing Gypsy Rose Lee's stuff. She gave a fairly good imitation in Dramatics class recently. . . . Morton Park and John Beutler wishing for a brain. . . . Jim Wilson seen shooting craps. Careful, Jim, or you may have to rent a barrel to go home in.

Skunk Hollow Merry Go Round

BY LARUE

W. L. politicians wind up their campaigns today with verbal blasts of praise or promise. Likely to be next prexy, Bob Donovan will have a chance to fulfill his promises. . . . No cinch race, the vice pres. conest may have votes split among all concerned . . . Anyone who predicts results of the student body secretary battle either has it fixed with ballot counters or is anxious to cut short his career. . . Kathleen "Dazzle" Dalzell looks like the assistant editor of the "Green and Gold". . . We'll take Merrick for Yell King just to show our faith in the value of advertising. . . News editor and political expert, Lois Butler has faith in the chances of Audrey Mem to capture the assistant annual manager post.

If these predictions should somehow prove incorrect, simply tear the top off the student body office and submit with a self addressed envelope. In return will send you a half a dozen slightly used columnists.

I AM NO POET-

I am no poet
And I know it.
I cannot make
Or even fake
Two words to rhyme
When in a line
Know it; poet
Make it; fake it Never before have I been able to say it.

SUBTLE SATIRE

By GLENN CAMPBELL

Doris Draper having simply a thrilling time at a certain Frat Dance at O. S. C. J. L. putting a crimp in the parking situation. Mr. Wade lecturing his little charges on the subject of dashing straight home, after band practice, which they all took to heart. Louise Worthington finally consenting to appear in public with Sir Lingenfelder. 'Tis rumored she is being cut cold by the withering gaze of one Mr. Gillette. Bob Daggett still occupying most of Pat Silver's time, presumably with the full acquiescence of Miss Silver. Carl Erickson finally getting a gal (Barbara Diefendorf) who is just as "belligerent" as he is. It's rumored they're "enel corner"! Motto of the first string basket bouncers, "to play or not to play, that is the question," was unable to find out who won the argument and why (shush! nuf said). Anybody who wants formals and tuxs for graduation should be shot (paid adv). I'm for trunks myself. Mick Merrick putting in his bid for the post of yell king, a majority of the students agree with Merrick that he's the man for the job. He's got the pep, and confidence that are needed to make a real yell leader. Here's hoping you students elect him—A soph. Irene "Penny" to you trying to make up her mind between a Milwaukie "steady" and one of the Ness. Boys.
