

Seniors Make Plans For Baccalaureate

At a senior meeting held Wednesday, plans for baccalaureate, the senior dance and senior play were discussed. Students who gave suggestions for ministers to speak at baccalaureate were placed on a committee to meet with Mr. Gary and decide upon a speaker. The questions of marching for graduation was brought up but owing to lack of time nothing was done. Mr. Fors, advisor, announced that several meetings will be held in the near future.

Dietrick Elected Member of Committee

At the meeting of the Future Farmer instructors, which was held at Portland in March, Mr. Dietrick was elected a member for the State Executive Committee. This committee will plan and take charge of all the activities of the state convention of Future Farmers which will be a three-day affair held on April 24, 25 and 26 at Corvallis, Oregon.

All the boys from the West Linn Chapter will attend the state convention. The main purpose of the convention is to further the Smith Hughes Federal aid program with much business included as the election of officers for the coming year, selection of outstanding Future Farmers this year, and contests which will test the skill of every FFA boy that participates.

The West Linn FFA boys have been able to win almost every contest that they have entered this year and have received several awards.

On March 27 the agriculture boys journeyed to Mr. Dietrick's home at Jennings Lodge where they were given a demonstration of how to operate a tractor.

Meier and Frank Co. To Sponsor Show

Meier and Frank Company will sponsor a style show to be held this afternoon in the high school auditorium. Clothes for boys and girls will be modeled. Graduation outfits as well as sport clothes will be modeled. The show will begin at 2 p. m. The girls' chorus will sing.

Hi-Y Representatives Attend Conference

ference is to hear speakers, present and exchange ideas as to how the organization can be of more service to each individual community.

Mr. Shearer said that we have always had representatives at the conference, Ed Woodworth being one of them last year.
