

Ailish Duff and Mersen Howes, sophomores, share a dance. They were two of about 560 students who attended Winter Ball.

"A Frosty Night" was held on Jan. 16 at the Melody Ballroom from 8-11 p.m.

West Linn students let loose at Winter Ball. Contrary to what has been called an "unspoken rule," many freshmen attended the dance along with upperclassmen.

Katie Carnahan, Lexington Ferris and Alyssa Johnston, seniors, dance. Although the dance was themed "A Frosty Night," temperatures that night ranged from 45 to 49 degrees.

Charles Roth, sophomore, Darian Royse and Christopher Jonsson, Casey Livesay and Trevor Harris, juniors, dance along with others who attended Winter Ball.

Margaret Steinkamp and Gloriann Eldridge, juniors, sing along with the music provided by the deejay, Shawn Whittemore. Current pop tunes were a large part of the play list.

Parker Smith and Kristina Reeves, seniors, enjoy the Winter Ball together. "I'll remember this night, mostly because of my beautiful date," Smith said.
