

A DAY FOR PICNICS

Every year on Labor Day, union members come together to celebrate family and community. Here are this year's events.

PORTLAND — The region's largest Labor Day picnic takes place at Oaks Amusement Park in Southeast Portland, sponsored by the Northwest Oregon Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Members and their families from dozens of unions — up to 20,000 people — turn out for barbecue, games, carnival rides, raffle drawings, music, and a chance to hear from local politicians. The picnic runs 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. There will be a kids' scavenger hunt, and a blood drive challenge. Politicians take the stage at 1 p.m. For the first time in several years, all of Oregon's Congressional delegation will be invited to the stage to speak. [The four Oregon Democrats who supported Trade Promotion Authority (Fast Track) legislation in 2015 had their invitations rescinded for two years.]

Free shuttle train: Labor Day is the busiest day of the year at Oaks Park. To help union members avoid traffic jams and parking headaches, the Northwest

WANTED: Union members interested in running for public office

Oregon Labor Candidate School, which trains and supports union members to run for public office, is once again accepting applications. The labor movement is looking for union members to run for public office, and promote a pro-worker agenda once elected. Classes — on the how and why of political campaigns — are taught by volunteer political and media consultants and take place one Saturday a month for six months. Applications are due Sept. 15, and class starts in October. To find out more, and apply, visit oregonlaborcandidateschool.org.
