BUILDING COMMUNITY

Six members of IAM Lodge 63 volunteered to put together 80 bicycles for the Presents from Partners Holiday Party sponsored by Labor's Community Services Agency. The bikes were purchased by the ILWU Federal Credit Union, which runs a year-round fundraiser (tip jars at teller windows) and conducts various raffles at ILWU events. This year they raised $16,500. On Nov. 30, Brandon Michels (above right), John Albus (right), Doug White, Paul Nance, Matt White, and Daniel Bricker worked for several hours in a small space in the back of the credit union assembling the bikes, which ranged from 10" tall with training wheels to full-size bikes for teens. The bikes will be gifts at the holiday party on Dec. 15. The labor-sponsored event is for families of unemployed union members and those facing temporary hardships.

Labor history group puts out call for papers

2019 marks the 100th anniversary of a watershed year in American and Canadian labor history, especially in the West. The year was defined by the Seattle and Winnipeg General Strikes, the Centralia Massacre, and a wave of state-sponsored repression of immigrant workers during the Palmer Raids. The Pacific Northwest Labor History Association will reflect on those events at its annual conference in Portland May 3-5.

PNLHA has put out a call for papers, presentations, performances and workshops that examine labor history of the past 100 years, especially related to: labor radicalism; patriarchy and feminism; employer and state repression; and racism.

Submit one-page proposals electronically by Jan. 7 to Conference Program Committee Coordinator Nikki Mandell at PNLHA2019@gmail.com.

PNLHA is also looking for sponsors to help fund the conference. Money will be used to bring keynote speakers and hire union musicians and sound technicians, and pay printing and other expenses, including free conference registration for students.

For more information, contact James Cook at 503-703-1693 or visit pnlha.org.
