Vernonia Library Presents Chautauqua Program

On October 15, 2007, at 7:00 PM the Vernonia Public Library will present an Oregon Chautauqua program made possible by funding from the Oregon Council for the Humanities. The title of the program is "The Portland Trailblazers' Championship Season: An Oregon Story" The program will be presented by Matt Love. Mr. Love teaches English and Journalism at Taft High School in Lincoln City. He is the author of several books including Red Hot and Rollin': A Retrospection of the Portland Trailblazers' 1976-77 Championship Season. Matt Love mixes slides, lecture, oral histories and audio and video clips to illustrate why the story of the Blazers' memorable 1976-77 season is one of the signature events in Oregon sports history. The program will be held at the Vernonia Public Library, 701 Weed Avenue, Vernonia.

The Oregon Chautauqua Programs are sponsored by the Oregon Council for the Humanities. The programs cover art, literature, music and topics of interest. Libraries are allowed to request up to three programs free of charge. This will be the first program for 2007-2008. Chautauqua was a word used by some Native Americans to denote a gathering of the people for the purpose of disseminating information; they were used at a time when most history and knowledge was passed on orally.
