Linear Trail Projects Planned

The Oregon State Parks and Recreation Department is planning to complete two long-awaited projects on the Banks-Vernonia Linear Trail. According to L. L. Stub Stewart State Park Manager Dan Lucas-- who also manages the Linear Trail-- funding has been secured to complete paving of the trail north of L. L. Stub Stewart State Park. The trail will also be completed all the way into the town of Banks, and a new trailhead and parking area will be constructed there. Lucas said they are still trying to solve the issue of the Highway 47 crossing at Top Hill, but did state that the intention is to remove the old train trestle at that crossing. Work is scheduled to be completed sometime in either 2010 or 2011.
