

Twenty-four More Dogs Saved

On Wednesday, December 18 the Columbia Humane Society in St. Helens received twenty-four dogs from a high-kill shelter in the Los Angeles area. These adorable and healthy dogs were facing euthanasia simply because they hadn't been adopted within 14 days of entering the Los Angeles Shelter System.

Columbia Humane Society

is proud to be a no-kill shelter that can accept some of these animals. This year alone, They've saved 823 animals, 251 of those were death row dogs from LA.

With your help, they can save even more. A tax-deductible donation, of any size, will help to pave the way. No animal should be left in a shelter to die just because it didn't have the good fortune of being born to a loving family in Columbia County, Oregon.

Please consider making a tax-deductible gift to the Columbia Humane Society today. All donations to Columbia Humane Society are tax deductible and can be mailed to: PO Box 845, Saint Helens, Oregon 97051

Valley Vet Says Goodbye

After forty years of service in the Vernonia community, Valley Veterinary closed their office doors here in town for the final time on Thursday, December 26. Dr. Jule Plummer, who retired several years ago, was on hand for the final day which was celebrated with a beautiful cake. Valley Vet will continue to operate their clinic in Rainier and says they will still offer house calls for large animals in the Vernonia area.
