Claudia Oblack Named "My Fair Lady"

On July 20th the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) celebrated the 28th annual My Fair Lady pageant on the main stage at the Columbia County Fair.

Claudia Oblack, representing Vernonia, was crowned queen.

The pageant honors senior women nominated and selected to represent their communities.

Claudia joins other recent winners from Vernonia: Ruth Bell, Necia DeWitt, Sally Harrison and Ann Mitchell.

These ladies are outstanding volunteers that work to make their communities a better place to live.

An estimated 200-250 people gathered to watch the event. Columbia River PUD is the main pageant sponsor, and both the PUD and RSVP work to coordinate the pageant. The emcees were Columbia County Commissioner Henry Heimuller and Diane Dillard; both sit on the RSVP Advisory Council.

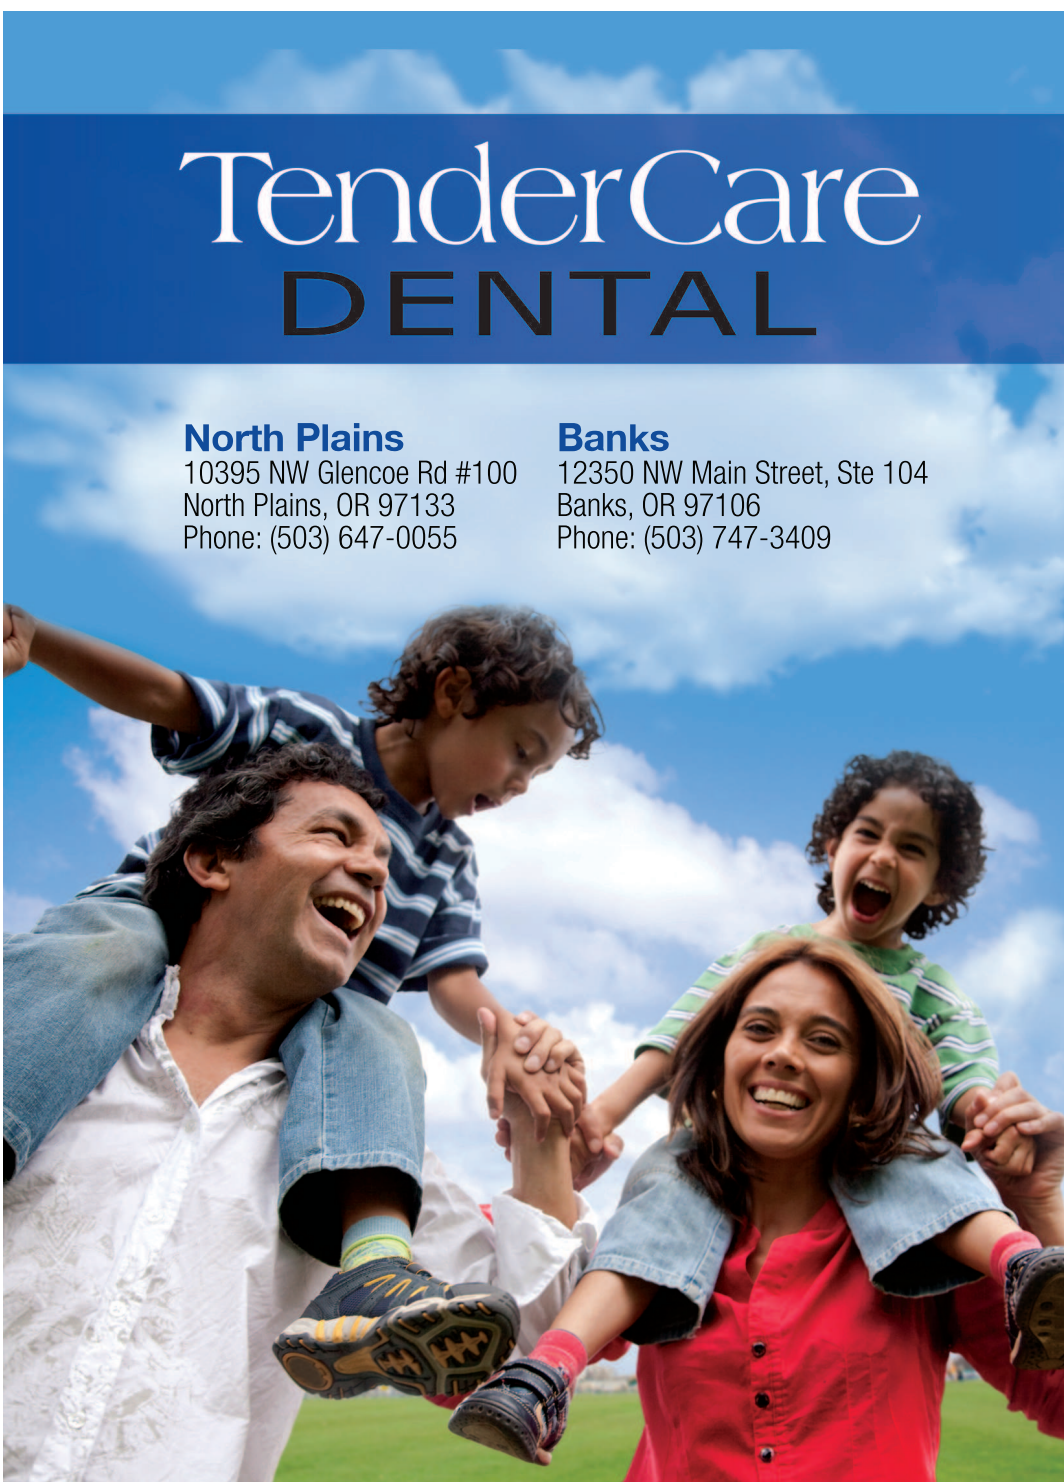

RSVP is a national service program sponsored locally by Columbia River Fire & Rescue, and serves volunteers 55 and older throughout the county. The My Fair Lady court will serve as goodwill ambassadors to RSVP throughout the year, helping to honor other volunteers.
