to say thank you. Originally I was raising money for an Orphanage Clinic in Mandalay, Myanmar. After Ms. Willard read a news article from One Dollar For Life, she saw that the money for the orphanage was already raised. Quickly, she came to me and with the help of the leadership class we discussed what other project within the ODFL organization we would like to send our money to. We finally decided on the building of some much needed classrooms in Villa Japon, in Tipitapa, Nicaragua.

The project will build three additional classrooms designed to be flexible with moving walls to work eventually as a big auditorium. A multipurpose room will also be built, which will provide space for a library, computer lab, teacher's meeting room and media room for video projection. A small portion will also be allocated for the school principal's office. This community of rice and cattle farmers is expected to need a high school soon and some of the classrooms will possess the ability to be used for those classes on weekends and in evenings. Some adult vocational education classes are also anticipated.

I cannot thank this community enough for the support! My goal was to raise $1,000 because I felt this was a solid amount that would have to make me work hard to achieve it. The total profit for One Dollar for Life was $1,150.46.

I would like to give a special thanks to all of the businesses in town that allowed me to put donation boxes in their stores: Black Iron Grill, R&S Market, Creatures, Napa Auto Parts, and Vernonia Post Office.

I would also like to thank the elementary school teachers for keeping boxes and encouraging the students to donate, and all of the high school grades for doing fundraisers to contribute.

Lastly, I would like to thank Marla Paden and Julie Ramsey for their generous donations to the cause. Every dollar makes a difference. By working together we can accomplish great things!

Thank you again everyone.

Columbia Humane Society Featured Pet

Bell is one of the sweetest girls you'll ever meet. Bell will do anything for a ball and would enjoy having a new owner to continue her training. She would do best with older children since she is very bouncy and cats are far too exciting for her. Bell does really well with other dogs and would love to have a dog friend in her forever home. She is just about 2 years old and weighs in right around 50 lbs. She will be sure to liven up your home. Her adoption fee is $250 and includes all her vaccinations, her micro chip and her spay. If you have any questions please don't hesitate to call or email.
