The Clatskanie Cultural Center will host an indie film festival on Saturday, August 17, organized by filmmakers Ray and Migdalia Etheridge. Doors open at 12:45 pm for the 1:00 pm show, and the second program is at 3:00 pm. Films are different in each program, and both shows are free to attend. The Clatskanie Cultural Center is located at 75 S. Nehalem.

The event will showcase 26 short films, produced by indie filmmakers from across the U.S., including several from Oregon. Genres include comedy, horror, drama, documentaries, and animation.

The films for the program were selected by a panel of five judges who graded each film on its technical quality, acting, script development, and entertainment value. The festival received nearly 100 entries, and films with the highest judged scores are being shown.

Awards in various categories will be presented after each block of films. The Etheridges warn that many of the films contain "adult" language or subject matter, and therefore are not recommended for children.
