STRANGE BUT TRUE

* It was noted 20th-century author of speculative fiction Harlan Ellison — whose writing credits include episodes of the original "Star Trek" series — who said: "The two most common elements in the universe are hydrogen and stupidity."

* After his death in 2005, the ashes of Hunter S. Thompson — pioneer of "gonzo" journalism and author of the infamous novel "Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas" — were fired spaceward from a giant cannon to the accompaniment of fireworks and the Bob Dylan song "Mr. Tambourine Man."

* All species of dog have a pink tongue — except one. Chows' tongues are black.

* The automatic dishwasher was invented in 1886. A woman named Josephine Cochrane came up with the idea because she was unhappy with the way her fine china was being chipped by the servants who were washing it.

* According to a recent Zinus study on sleep anxiety in America, women are more likely than men to dream about being chased and having teeth fall out. Men, though, dream more often about being naked in public and flying.
