WATCH FOR WILDLIFE

YEAR STICKER

Plate awaits approval

The Oregon Wildlife Foundation launched the Watch for Wildlife campaign to get Oregon's next wildlife license plate approved by the DMV.

The plate, featuring a mule deer and a Cascade Range mountain, was conceived by the Foundation and partners to raise awareness about wildlife-vehicle collisions on Oregon's highways and roads. Mule deer are an iconic western species whose numbers are already in decline due to habitat loss. Vouchers are available to purchase, and can be used once the plate is approved.
