Sands Cupany in Cottage Grove makes 90% of its molds, which allows for more adjustments and personal touches. The owners are offering "Take-and-Paint" at-home projects.

POTTERY continued from 16

returned at the house in an incoming tote for them to fire and eventually pick up.

"It's a whole new avenue for us," she said.

Sands Cupany makes 90% of its molds and carries a variety of ceramics, and can adjust the clay to add light decorations or fasten the piece into a piggy bank or night light.

Its molds dive into fantasy with fairy houses and dragons, to emojis, lighthouses and wildlife.

Sands said that with ceramics being an older business model, its popularity peaking in the 1970s, it had taken a backseat to other activities. Now, she thinks it's time for a comeback.

"People are really enjoying it and having a lot of fun," she said.

"This is something that children from ages two to grandpas and grandmas can do."

— Denise Sands

Although they have not been able to hold events, Sands said that families can still have an opportunity to connect over ceramics at home.

"This is something that children from ages two to grandpas and grandmas can do, and they really, really enjoy these projects," she said. "Older moms remember doing this with their grandparents and now they have something they can teach their kids."
