

O'KELLY FINDS HEIR

But She's Only a Make-Believe and Gets His Money.

'FRISCO SHARP IN THE TOILS

Coos Bay Towboat Owner, Carrying Our Wife's Dying Request, Parts With $2,500 of Good American Money.

James O'Kelly, a wealthy towboat owner of Coos Bay, recently figured as the dupe of a San Francisco clairvoyant, Dr. Astro, to the tune of $2500.

Through the aid of a woman claiming to be his wife, but who was known as Stella Mason, once an actress, Astro is alleged to have attempted to fleece O'Kelly of $5000, by pretending to him that the Mason woman was his long lost daughter, for whom he had been searching. When O'Kelly's wife died recently her last wish was that her husband find the missing daughter of her first marriage, and give to her $5000 besides her valuable trousseau.

In searching for the missing girl, O'Kelly went to 'Frisco and met "Dr." Astro, clairvoyant, who promised to produce the missing girl through the aid of mysterious power. O'Kelly was told that the missing child would be found at Malta apartments. O'Kelly proceeded to that place and found a girl, who wept copiously on his shoulder, and convinced O'Kelly that she was the party he was looking for by producing photographs of her dead mother. This photograph, the police claim, was stolen by the clairvoyant from O'Kelly. When she produced the photograph O'Kelly turned over part of the $5000. He was to hand her the remaining part next day, but when he went back to the Malta apartments his suspicions were aroused by the fact that the girl was missing. He reported the case to the police, who detailed several detectives on the case. The girl was apprehended, while preparing to leave the city. After a night in jail she confessed, and Astro was taken into custody.

DEATH OF LEE CHANEY.

Succumbs to Tuberculosis After Several Years a Victim.

Lee Chaney, a sufferer from that dread disease, consumption, died at 9 o'clock Tuesday night, the immediate cause of death being hemorrhage of the lungs. The body was taken to Middleton, Idaho, for burial, and was accompanied by his widow and father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Chaney, whose home is at that place.

The deceased was 30 years of age, and a native of Idaho. In June 1908 he contracted a severe cold, resulting in pneumonia and subsequently consumption. He was advised to seek a lower altitude, and came to the Willamette valley, locating at Eugene, where he conducted a lodging house. Last summer Mr. Chaney went to London Springs, where he remained until a fortnight prior to his death, and to every appearance was gradually improving. On the day of his death Mr. Chaney was about town for several hours, and only a few minutes prior to his passing away had planned what he purposed doing on the morrow. At 9 o'clock he sat in the family circle, when he was taken with the hemorrhage that ended his life a few minutes later.

Lee Chaney, eight years ago, married Miss Grace Ingwood at Salt Lake City, but to the union no children were born. Mrs. Chaney will go to the home of a sister, in Montpelier, Idaho, after the funeral, there to remain for several months.

A New Raincoat Oil.

Tom Parker has an acquaintance at Creswell who is not familiar with the English language. Yesterday Mr. Parker received a letter from him asking him to buy a quart of raincoat oil—meaning linseed oil—and in order that there should be no mistake copied the label on a bottle, the contents of which he had just exhausted. It reads: "Cedar Brook, formerly W. H. McBrayer, distiller. A guarantee that this is the genuine. Hand-made sour mesh whisky. The best known brand in the world." Inquiry showed that a local druggist had used the whisky bottle when the foreigner bought linseed oil on a previous occasion. Tom didn't know what was wanted from the label.

Notes From Royal.

Mrs. Thompson, Miss Hull, Edna Eledge and Edith Rosenberg visited the school on Friday.

The Pie social at the Royal school house on Thursday evening was quite a success.

The people of the dormitory spent Thanksgiving at E. A. Wheeler's home.

Frank Bradford went home from the Royal Academy on Saturday morning on account of sickness.

Miss Varien Dresser is again able to attend school.

Street Fight in Eugene.

Night Policeman Charles W. Evans and Hardy Howard engaged in a fight on the street at Eugene. The altercation grew out of the allegation of Policeman Evans that Hardy had insulted his wife while she was buying a pair of shoes in the store where Hardy was employed as a clerk. She told her husband of the alleged incident, whereupon Evans and Policeman Purdy brought Howard into the Police Court on the charge of assault. Evans gave Hardy his choice between pleading guilty and being thrashed the first time they met on the street. Howard refused to plead guilty and Evans made good his threat. Howard denied that he insulted the policeman's wife. After the fight Evans pleaded guilty to assault and battery and paid a fine of $10.

Read and Reflect.

The attention of the reader is invited to The Sentinel's advertising columns today. Christmas time approaches, and the merchants of Cottage Grove are making a bid for your trade, to which they are entitled. The Sentinel has time and again urged upon the people of this community the advantages to be gained by building a fence around the home dollar, but at this season it desires to emphasize its previous arguments. Our merchants are prepared to supply your wants.

WHICH SHALL BE FIRST

Oregon Electric May Come South to Cottage Grove.

LABOR SITUATION A FACTOR

General Manager Talbot Makes Statement Concerning Proposed Extensions of Electric Road in Willamette Valley.

The first extension of the Oregon Electric railway may be from Salem to Cottage Grove and Roseburg according to the Oregonian. It is not definitely settled whether this line will be constructed first or the proposed line from Tigard to Corvallis, but it is believed that the Cottage Grove extension will be given the preference.

The recent sale of $2,000,000 bonds by the company was partially for the extension of one of the lines surveyed. Then it was given out that there was no plan made regarding the expenditure of the bond money. General Manager Talbot told the Oregonian that preparations of estimates of cost had delayed the work. The labor situation would govern, also he said, the amount of work to be carried on next Summer.

"It is my opinion that there will be a famine of labor in Oregon next year," said Mr. Talbot. "Labor will be scarce, and what can be obtained will come high. The labor conditions may limit our work next Summer, but the present delay in determining what line is to be worked, and whether anything is to be done soon, is due more to delay in getting estimates from engineers."

"At the time the sale of the bonds was confirmed it was said that the policy of the company would be to make previous announcement concerning the time of construction, but that the public would get its first information of the work when it was actually begun."

TAKES KINDLY TO PLAN.

Klamath Falls Bachelor Approves of Unengaged Girl's Scheme.

Klamath Falls, Ore., Nov. 29. Editor Cottage Grove Sentinel: I am a very faithful reader and great admirer of your excellent paper and was intensely interested in an article appearing in the last issue written by the unengaged girl, and hereby take the liberty of a reply, as requested. To say that the badge method for the young ladies whose names are upon the matrimonial list would be only doing the young men of your city justice, is putting it mildly.

There are scores of us would-be fellows, who were it not for the awful horror of getting "handed a lemon," would be delighted to make good.

I have in mind a number of this stripe of gentlemen here in Klamath Falls who would readily become excellent citizens of your beautiful little city, which would mean a betterment of your locality. It's a business proposition.

Being in the position you are, Mr. Editor, I say agitate the matter as much as possible, or in other words, come to the rescue of those of us who have given up all hope. I most heartily endorse the plan.

"ANXIOUS OLD BATCH."

Fourth Regiment May Stick.

The Eugene Register seems to think the Fourth regiment will remain intact. It says "there has been much talk of disbanding the Fourth regiment, O. N. G., artillery service. This was at a time when trouble was brewing with Japan and it was thought the coast needed stronger defenses. Since then unofficial word has been circulated that it is most likely the regiment will remain just as it and that within a reasonable time four more companies will be added to make the regiment complete."

NO MISREPRESENTATION.

So States Manager Conley, the Commercial Club Booster.

The Sentinel: As there appears to be some feeling abroad in this community that we are not giving the facts, but are misrepresenting the conditions as they exist at and near Cottage Grove, I ask this means in making matters plain before the public.

It is the desire of the Promotion department of the Commercial club that every citizen who has the interests of Cottage Grove and vicinity at heart, calls at the office of the manager in the Commercial club building, corner Fifth and Main streets, and ascertain by personal investigation whether or not the conditions are being misrepresented.

The facts contained in the Community Booklet were obtained from residents of this community, well-known to nearly every man, woman, and child in south Lane county, so if they gave information which was not authentic the manager of the Promotion department and the Promotion committee desire to know immediately where misrepresentation is going on. It certainly does not come from the Commercial club, Merchants' Protective association, or from of the business men who so loyally subscribed cash for the purpose of giving to the world the opportunities as they are found at Cottage Grove.

If "A Citizen" does not desire to remain in business on the East side, he should either move to the west side, or outside. The new brick business houses were erected for occupancy, so if he was unsuccessful in obtaining room to suit, he has no one to blame other than himself. He was here first. Thanking you for space in your valuable publication and wishing it the success it is entitled, I am yours for a greater Cottage Grove, Fred G. Conley, Mgr. Com. Club.

HOME CURE FOR ECZEMA

Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, Glycerine, Etc., Used as a Simple Wash

It really seems strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema, when it is now no longer a secret that oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol, glycerine, etc., makes a wash that is bound to cure.

Old, obstinate cases, it is true, cannot be cured in a few days, but there is absolutely no sufferer from eczema who ever used this simple wash and did not find immediately that wonderfully soothing, calm, cool sensation that comes when the itch is taken away. Instantly upon applying a few drops of the wash the remedy takes effect, the itch is allayed. There is no need of experiment—the patient knows at once.

Instead of trying to compound the oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., in the right proportions ourselves we are using a prescription which is universally found the most effective. It is known as the D. D. D. Prescription, or Oil of Wintergreen Compound. It is made by the D. D. D. Co. of Chicago, and our long experience with this remedy has given us great confidence in its merits.
